P.A./Official Guide

On the wave of spirit, meet Party Animal, (P.A.). He is going to help catch the wave and ride it through 1987 — a year of fun and excitement at Gallatin Senior High.

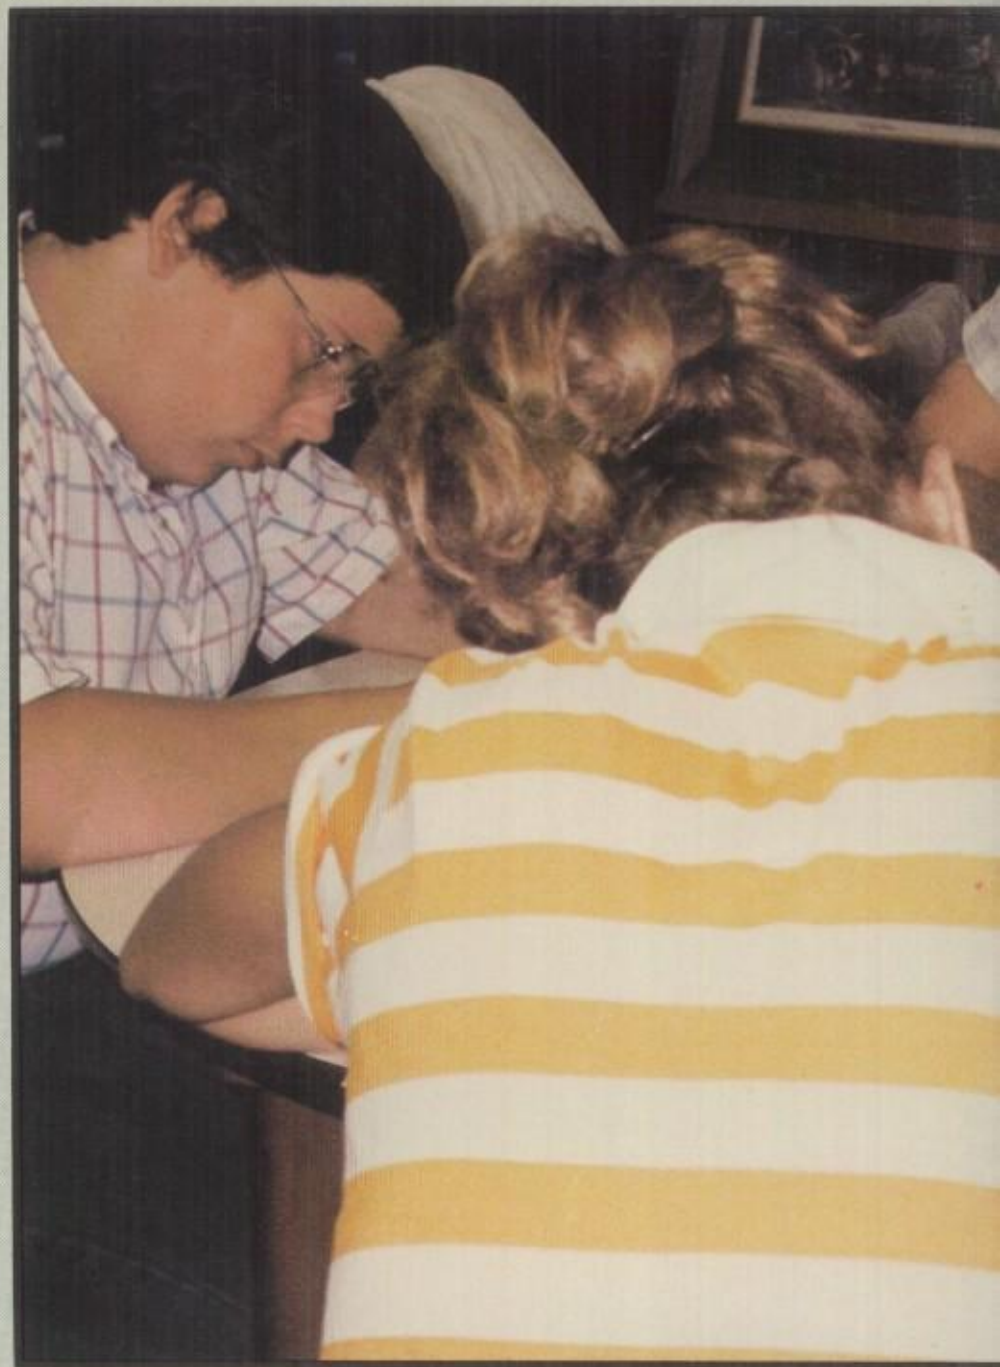

Upon entering the school, P.A. feels the electricity and knows this is a special place.

The long trophy cases catch his eye, and he realizes that people learn much more than facts at Gallatin ... they learn about themselves, about living, about PRIDE.

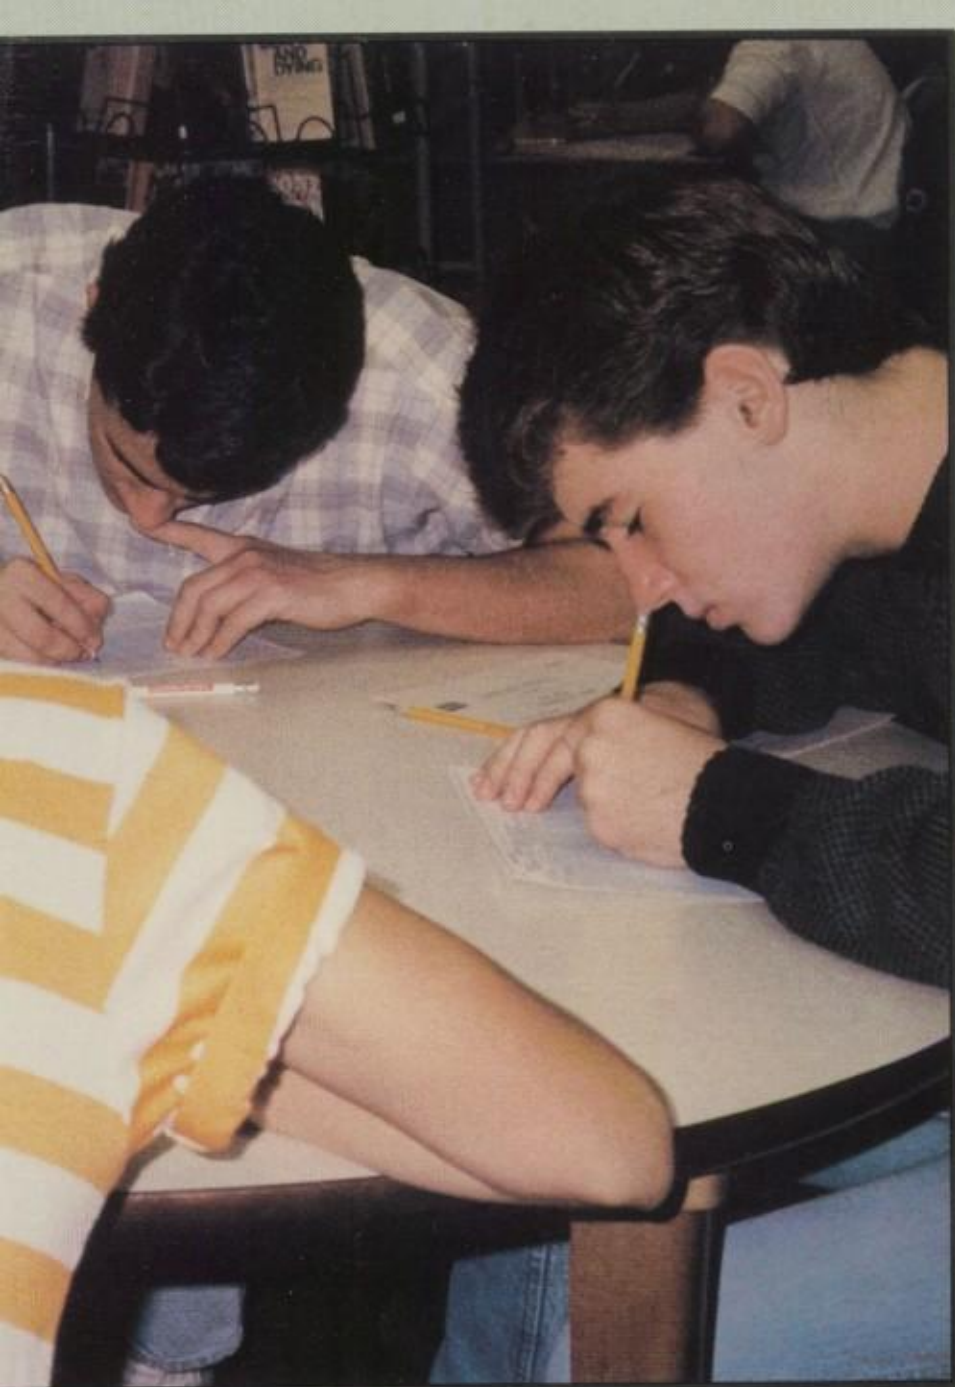

The next memories bring thoughts of achievement and the recollection of some disappointments. P.A. sees Coach Mac's face as he announces the Girl's Cross Country State Championship. P.A. also sees the Junior Varsity football victories, the many band honors, the soccer teams up and down season, the football team's successful season reaching state play-offs, golf, tennis, basketball, forensics, Beta Club, Chorus ... the memories are many.

Come on now, P.A. is ready to go!

Catch The Wave

As you look around at school, you see it . . . jeans, tee shirts, sweatshirts, watches . . . the list goes on. Coke clothes are all the rage! One of America's favorite soft drinks has captured the hearts and minds of many, including the '87 yearbook staff who are using the popular phrase, "catch the wave," for this year's theme.

There are blue jeans with the Coca-Cola patch, shirts in bright colors with "Coca-Cola" across the front, watches with Coke logos on the face, imprinted tee shirts and sweatshirts with everything from "Coke is it" to "Catch the wave." No matter what Coke paraphenalia you wear, you know you'll look as good as Coca-Cola tastes. Not everybody chooses to be alike, there are rabid Pepsi fans as well.

Of course P.A. has his own Coke shirt, however, he is still shopping for matching sunglasses.

Wet Win Marks Homecoming

Homecoming Day came to Gallatin Sr. High with thunder and lightning, but spirits were not dampened. All week the classes were busy stuffing and stapling. The Homecoming Parade was cancelled, however, all was not lost. The next week the floats were shown in the Jaycee's Homecoming '86 Parade and the Junior float was victorious.

At the game approximately two hundred faithful fans could be seen huddled in the stands. The band did not play, and the Homecoming court was not presented. Still, there was an electricity and it was shown on the field. Through the rain, fog, chill and mud, the Gallatin Green Wave prevailed with a score of 27-0 over the Franklin Rebels. P.A. was there — were you? He even stayed for the whole game and said he wouldn't have missed it for the world!

Left: "Roast the Rebels," was the theme of this year's second-place sophomore float.

Betas And A.P. Students Named Winners

Gallatin High School Beta Club members excel on the District level as the Quiz Bowl team wins and the District Vice-President is elected. The Quiz Bowl team consisting of Keith Beasley, Doug Alexander, and David Simpson won first place among several high schools which competed. During the same meeting held at Westmoreland High School, Maggie Oldham was elected to the office of District Vice-President for the 1987-88 academic year.

At Austin Peay State University this spring, Julie Hammond and Andrea Whitsell competed against many students from area private and public high schools in the area of essay writing. Andrea Whitsell captured first place and Julie Hammond captured second place.

Cissy Patterson, Beta Club secretary, won another special award in Social Studies, the Woodsman of the World Award.

Youth Take Trips, Honors

Several Gallatin High School groups have educational experiences as Close-up goes to Washington, D.C., Youth Legislature goes to Nashville, N.F.L. inducts three members, and Inroads members complete their three year program.

Five Gallatin Juniors and Mr. Hosier go to Washington, D.C. to better understand the United States Government. Youth Legislature delegates go to Nashville on May 1-3, 1987, to simulate a state government.

Tracy Warren, Becky Stout, and Laura Black are the first three Gallatin High School students to be inducted into the National Forensics League.

Inroads, a minority/corporate organization, has six members completing their program.

Band And Chorus Win Honors

Gallatin High School chorus and band members have achieved honors on the state and local levels. Sixteen band members have achieved the All-Midstate band honor. They performed a piece of music in front of judges who rated them on their performance. Amy Cheatham, a band member, has been named Band Queen because of her support for the band program. She is the top salesperson of candy with proceeds going to the band program. She also has sold cookies, had a car wash, and organized a bake sale.

Six seniors received the All-State chorus honor. As the All-Midstate band members do, the chorus members perform a piece of music in front of judges. All of these students show that hard work and effort can allow a student to be the best.

New Honor Society Recognizes Vocational Students

The National Vocational-Technical Honor Society is an honor organization developed exclusively to provide recognition for outstanding students in vocational programs. Its purposes are to promote service, leadership, honesty, career development, and skilled workmanship; to reward student achievement; to encourage and assist student educational and career goal settings; to promote a stronger linkage between local vocational-technical institutions and business and industry; and to promote the image of vocational-technical education in America.

Students are invited to become members based upon the following qualifications: overall grade point average, grade point average in vocational areas, membership in youth organizations, attendance, leadership ability, good attitude, and self-motivation.

The National Vocational-Technical Honor Society is new at Gallatin Senior

High School this year. Fifteen students were invited to join the society. The nine members who are seniors will be recognized at senior honors night.

Governor's School Announces Honors

Gallatin High School has announced the sophomores and juniors who have been selected to attend Governor's School. Governor's School, a group of selective studies courses, has become a prestigious honor in its few years of existence.

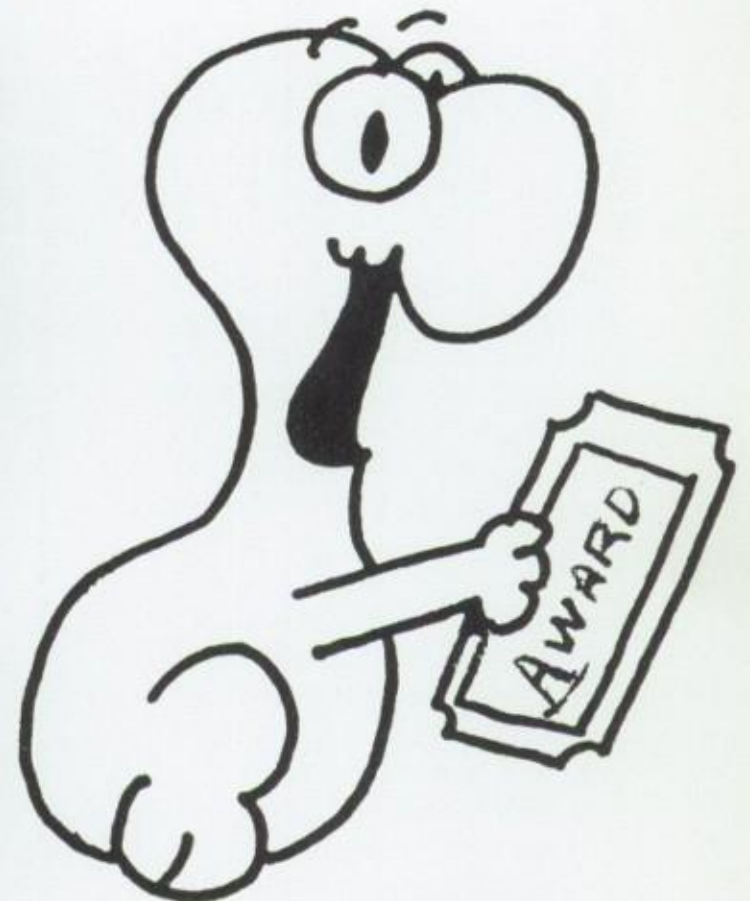

Several sophomores have received this honor. Shauna Dotson has been chosen for Music, with Kim Crutcher and Jennifer Wiggins as alternates. Lise Nelson will have a chance to attend Humanities. Jarvis Spruill has received a place in International Studies, with Darren Sutherland and Joel Ross as alternates. Lise Nelson has also been chosen for Sciences. Joel Ross has a spot reserved for Tennessee Studies.

The Juniors will also be well represented. Dawn Sloan has a place in the Tennessee Studies department, with Julie O'Hara as an alternate. Amy Sue Edmondson has been chosen for Music. Margaret Blaylock, Raegan Ray, and Peter Overmohle will be alternates for Art.

Students Are Commended For Efforts

Gallatin High School is proud of Maurdi Kelly for her DECA awards, Trishia Krall and Lance Kizer for being commended national merit scholars, and the computer team for their honors.

Maurdi Kelly, a junior at GHS, competed in the DECA State Conference Championship at the Nashville Music City Sheraton. Competing in the area quick service management, Maurdi won two first place medals, as well as first place in the overall state competition. Winning this level sent Maurdi on to National Competition in New Orleans. Maurdi placed sixth there.

Trishia Krall and Lance Kizer are two of 25,000 seniors named commended national merit scholars.

Students Receive Honors For Their Achievements

Many honors are given to Gallatin High School students for varied achievements. Margaret Blaylock will be attending the Western Kentucky Junior Scholars Program this summer. She will stay eight weeks and participate in college courses for which she will receive nine hours of college credit. Margaret applied by writing an essay and sending her school transcript. She received the all expense paid prize of free room, board, and classes.

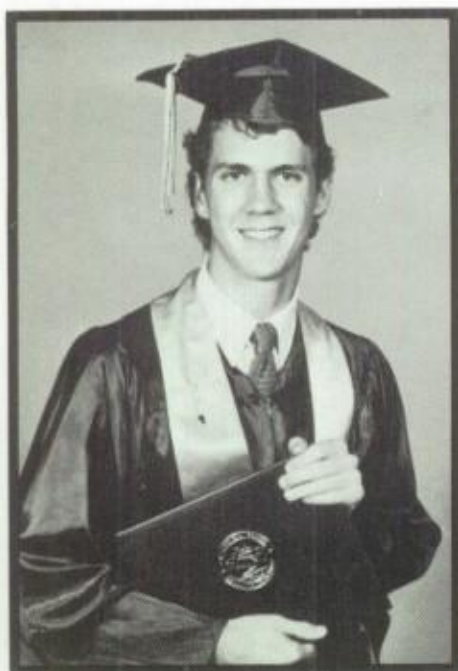

Lorenzo Lucarelli and Thomas Sunstrom are our foreign exchange students. They received special commendations from Pres. Reagan.

Gallatin High School has five Tennessee Honor Graduates who received the diploma for their academic achievements, while six OEA students received honors for their achievements.

Juniors Win Float Contest

Greenwave Magic and Ziggy were the winning combination for the junior class. Their float, "Ziggy Brews A Victory", won the Homecoming float competition. Many hours of work and the help of junior advisors, Mrs. Mayberry and Mrs. Wakefield, went into building the winning float. At the beginning of the week, Ziggy and his kettle started out as a large mass of chicken wire. However, as hundreds of pieces of green and pink tissue paper were used, things began to take a definite form. Even a computer printout was used by the juniors during the float's construction. Ziggy, dressed in green and stirring a huge pot, overflowing with V's for victory won the appeal of the judges. Unfortunately, rain cancelled the Homecoming parade, but the float was displayed in the Jaycee's Homecoming '86 parade the following week.

Students Are Selected For College Group

On Saturday, November 1, six students from Gallatin Senior High were chosen to attend a leadership seminar at Western Kentucky University. The students selected were: Doug Alexander, Mira Borders, Kim Dowland, Leanne Haile, Anita Malone, and Tim Wright. Each participated in groups with students from all over Tennessee. These students were selected by their English teachers.

Research Is Exhausting

I look at the clock. It's midnight. I have been working on my research paper for the past seven hours. The big question now is, will it be presentable at 8:00 a.m.? As I sort through my 300 plus note cards, I am throwing out at least 100. This really hurts, considering all the time I spent making them. My subject is dreams. If one more person tells me what they have dreamed, I will scream! After I have turned this paper in, I do not ever want the subject of dreams to be discussed in my presence.

I can barely hold my pen. I watched "The Cosby Show" earlier; one of Bill Cosby's daughters has just received her grade on her thesis. She made a "D". Would you believe her subject was dreams? Not a very encouraging omen!

Now with my caffeine-filled cola and candy beside me, I must get back to the world of dreams — and I do not mean sleep.

Class Elects Officers With Experience

Experience is perhaps the best teacher, and the junior class officers have all had a chance in the past to demonstrate their potential as leaders. The class officers are Anne Rush, president; Lamar Franklin, vice-president; Shelley Banks, secretary; and Nancy Daigler, treasurer. This is Lamar Franklin's first year as an officer, but the three girls have held positions as officers before. As president Anne Rush states, "I think the class of '88 is a very special class."

Hard work, high spirits, and hurricane gales comprise Football Homecoming this year. Throughout the week, the members of each class put together and create their interpretation of the theme, "Green Wave Magic", by building the class float. The end of the week brings excitement as the possibility of winning the first place ribbon hangs in the balance. Friday comes with thunder and lightning. The floats are finished and the clouds fill the sky. By afternoon, the town knows that the parade is cancelled. The rain does not let up as a few faithful fans gather to see the game. The Homecoming game has no glitter this year. No floats, no homecoming court, no seniors are presented. There is no standing-room-only crowd at the game, but the "Green Wave Magic" is there as the team wins 28-0 against Franklin.

Drive Exceeds Goal

The year of 1986 has been yet another record year for Gallatin Senior High School's magazine drive. The school has turned in a total of $127,191.60, surpassing the total from last year.

The top selling classes are Mrs. Payne with $9,726.46, Coach Stephenson with $9,114.23, and Coach McPherson with $7,501.23.

The rest of the top ten classes are Mrs. Tomlin, Coach Joslin, Mrs. Fanning, Mrs. Reasonover, Ms. Gaba, Mr. Sanders, and Mrs. Mattox.

The top ten students are Cissy and Jeff Patterson, Todd Reynolds, Mira Jane Borders, Doug Alexander, Kendall McCormick, Michael and Kyle Thigpen, Martin Porter, Rob Reasonover, Beth High, and Jim Payne.

Out of the total sold, forty per cent of the money has been returned to the school to be used for new school supplies, furnishings, instructional materials, and prom.

Magazine drive '86 has included the perennial speeches on the intercom from Coach Stephenson, who later sported his infamous "two-two" in the gym, the ice cream parties and doughnut bashes, along with class visits all around the building.

'Curious Savage' Is Play

The Junior/Senior Play of 1986 was a dramatic comedy called "The Curious Savage", by John Patrick. The play ran December 11th and 13th with a cast of eleven. It is the story of an elderly woman (Mrs. Savage) who inherited $50 million from her recently deceased husband. She put the money into a "Happiness Fund" in which she gave away money to people who had a dream to fulfill. Subsequently her children, Titus, Samuel, and Lily Bell, put her in a home for the mentally disturbed so as to extract the inheritance from her.

The play was directed by former speech and drama teacher Juliette Guthrie and co-directed by Gallatin's new speech and drama teacher Kimberly Reed. Other people involved in the play were Laura Black on book, Jeff Roberts, Stage Manager, Shelia Nash, Kiby Overman and Jay Ingram on lights, Terry Tarpley on sound, Kathy Boland on props, Sheree Abernathy and Leigh Mattox handled publicity while Amanda Baskin helped with costumes. Make-up was done by Leanne Haile, Leigh Mattox, Bridget Martin and Elizabeth Hagerty with the help of Mrs. Guthrie, Mrs. Johnston, Miss Reed, Mrs. Bivens, and Mrs. Miller.

A Wave Goodbye

As the cold weather persists, Gallatin warms up to the idea of Basketball Homecoming, the girls' undefeated season, and the boys' fast-paced game. Although it snows the Monday of Homecoming Week, the student body still has spirit when they return. The dress-up days consist of Sunglasses Day, Hat Day, and Green and Gold Day. There is a breakfast for the faculty, basketball cheerleaders, players, and managers the morning of the game. Door prizes are awarded to lucky recipients including a radio and a case of cokes.

During the day, there is a pep rally where the senior players and cheerleaders are presented medals.

That night the fans show up to support the teams as the girls team wins and the boys lose. Pre-game, the senior parents are introduced. Between the games, the cheerleaders dance a routine, the jazz band plays, and the Performers sing.

Parents and special guests are treated to a hospitality room where Mr. Owen and his students have a variety of foods prepared.

A "Wave Goodbye" has thematically saluted the basketball seniors.

Art Exhibits Displayed

The art department has a varied curriculum. Everything from student exhibits here in the school, to exhibits in the Hendersonville Art Council's county wide show are a part of the art program.

The advanced art class has been responsible for the exhibits at school. Long term plans and arrangements were made by every student while waiting for their turn. The exhibits comprise the final exam grade.

The very best of the artist's work was presented in his or her show. Paintings, drawings, sculpture, copper tooling, pastels, ink hatchings, and even cartoons were some of the projects that went into each show. Design, color, and theme also became important contributions to the overall effect of the show, where each student showed his own individual style which varied greatly.

The shows were either in the showcase outside the art room, or in the large case outside the guidance office. The students were allowed to pick the case they wanted for their show. This choice was often affected by the amount of presentable work each artist owned.

Football — Basketball Banquet Is Held

The annual football basketball banquet honored the members of both teams on Thursday night, April 9. The cafeteria was an array of green and gold and featured artwork depicting sports figures and caricatures. The menu for the evening included roast beef, green beans, potatoes, salad and hot fudge cake.

Players were seated by teams flanked on either end by special guests. Coach Richard Stephenson served as emcee. The coaches made speeches, introduced the team and awarded trophies to outstanding players.

In football the trophy winners were as follows: DAL — Brian Armistead, MVP-Lineman — Timmy Tunstill, MVP Offensive Back —

Corey Lewis, MVP Def. Back — Bubba Dunn, Specialist — Byron McCollum, and MVP Def. Lineman — Robert McWhirter.

In Boys Basketball the DAL recipient was Byron McCollum, MVP — Tony Brinkley, the Mr. Hustle — Corey Lewis and the Sportsmanship award went too Greg Balturshot.

In girls basketball the DAL recipient was Renay Adams, the hustle award went to Amy Lannom, the "X" award to Debbie Scott and the Sportsmanship award went to Andrea Whitsell.

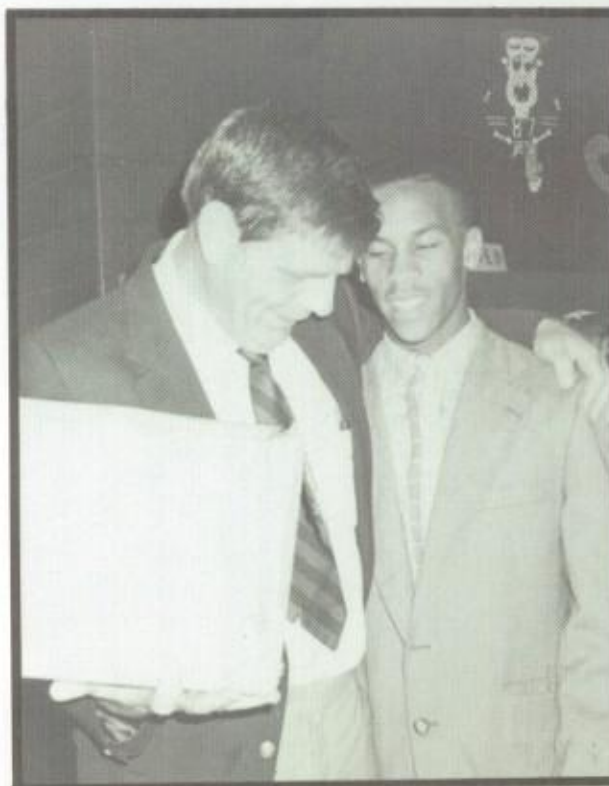

It should be noted that DAL stands for dedication, ability and leadership. This is considered the highest award given to a player.

Depth Dominates One Acts

The Gallatin High School Speech and Drama Department presented a night of One Acts Friday and Saturday April 24th and 25th, 1987 at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre. The four plays presented which were rehearsed in class, included each member of Speech and Drama in either an acting or technical capacity. The costuming for the shows were primarily selected from the departments' costume shop or in cooperation with parents. Costumes ranged from the 17th century to modern day and included such fantasy scenes as scarecrows coming to life and masquerades from the misty past.

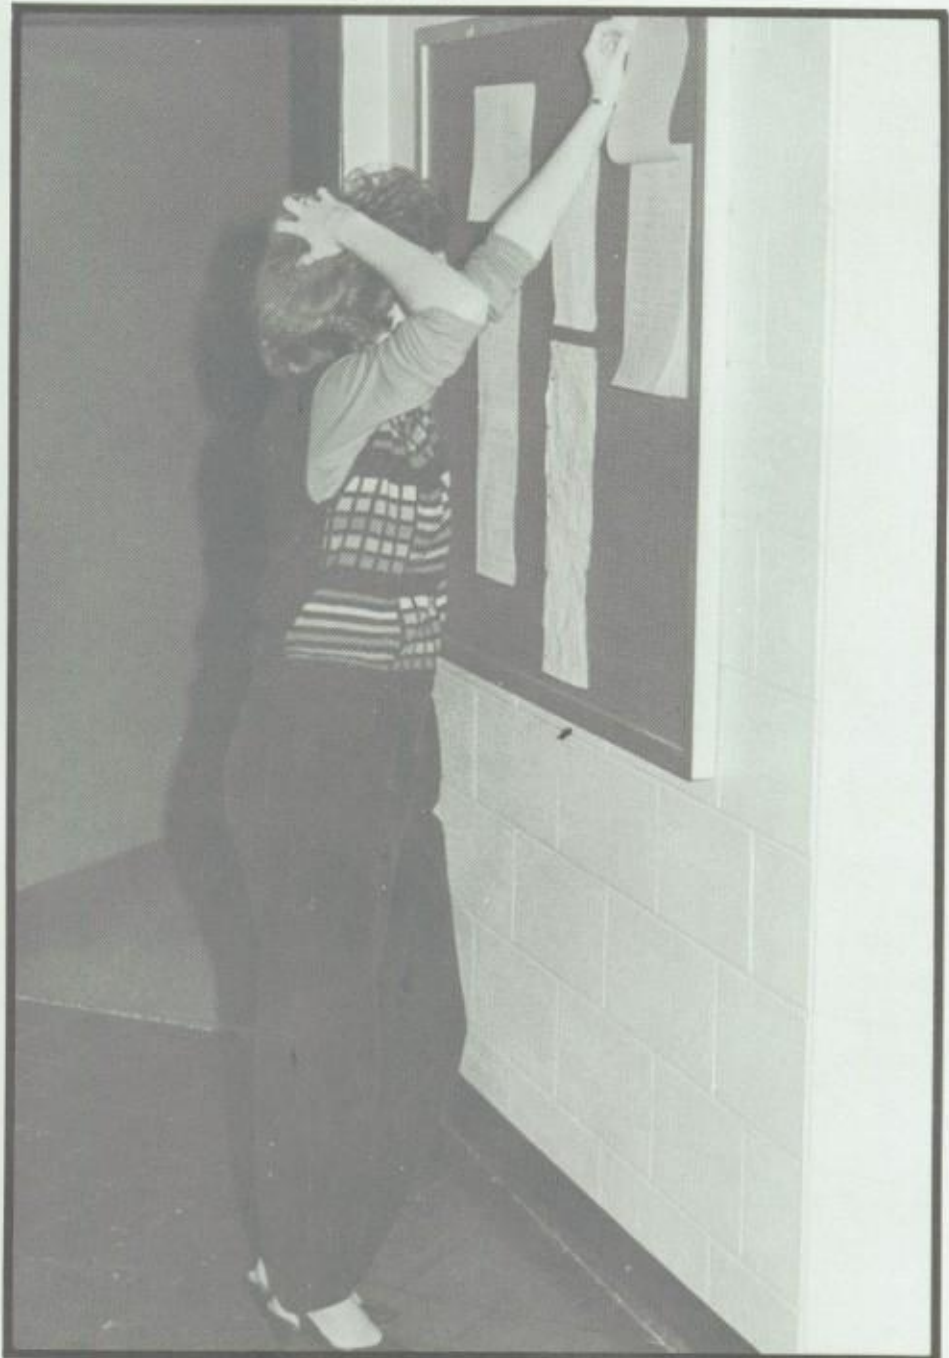

The opening play "Feathertop" was adapted from Nathaniel Hawthorne's famous short story by Richard France. This scene takes place during the early 1700's in the Rigsby and Gookin homes. This show centers around a scarecrow brought to life by his witch-mother, portrayed by Becky Stout.

The Masque of the Red Death, adapted from the Edgar Allan Poe famous short story by Trent Anthony, explored Prince Prospero's castle at the height of a colorful masquerade. Here Prince Prospero's dictatorship was finally destroyed by the plague of the Red Death.

Country Gothic involved the rural community of Fox Fire Valley. At the rise of the curtain Joel Ross brought the house down with his musical talents. This humorous play revealed the secret of the Fox Fire apple as well as its people.

The last play, School of Darkness was written by Stewart Boston. This reverse society was devastated by the evils of drugs and a corrupted education system.

Left: This year's One Acts were April 24 and 25 at 7:30. Tickets were $2.00 in advance and $2.50 at the door.

Come To the Cabaret

"Come to the Cabaret" sang the cast as the curtain opened on Cabaret '87. The performance demonstrated the traditional charm and style for which the choral department has developed a reputation. Under the direction of Sue Upchurch and with the assistance of choreographer — Pam Cathey, Master of Ceremonies — Mark Smith, light crew — Jimmy Vantrease and Scott Mitchner, Cabaret was a great success.

Guests were served fudge cake from 6:30-7:15 in the commons area. Unlike on previous occasions, the show itself was held in the Little Theatre. Showtime was at 7:30. The audience was entertained by a variety of country, pop, contemporary Christian selections ranging from "Jehovah" by Karen Phillips, to "Forever" by Keith Burns. Particular crowd pleasers were "Two Kinds of Love" by The Five Amigos and "Find Out What They Like" by Kim Crutcher and Becky Stout. The Performers, decked out in their California best, brought down the house with their last number "Best of the Beach Boys". The show closed with the traditional Cabaret sung by the entire cast.

Cabaret began Fri., May 15 and ended with the climatic Sat., May 16 performance.

Oldham Wins Election

Politics. That's what it's all about. Student Council elections bring out strange buddies and stranger campaigns. Initially, the whole affair begins quietly. Then suddenly the school is covered with signs. Some are funny, some are even quaint. Some are thought-provoking and some are just provoking.

Nevertheless, the camps begin to gather steam. Buttons appear on lapels. "Who are you going to vote for?" Some will commit to a party. Some split their votes, saying they are voting for "the best man." Some say nothing.

Smiles tighten and the day comes for speeches. Just like the signs the speeches are varied. Some are original, some are not. Some make promises while some make people mentally promise not to vote for 'that' character.

Eventually, the results are in. A new roster of officers is announced. As for announcing, that's what the new President will spend 8:00's and 1:00's doing next year.

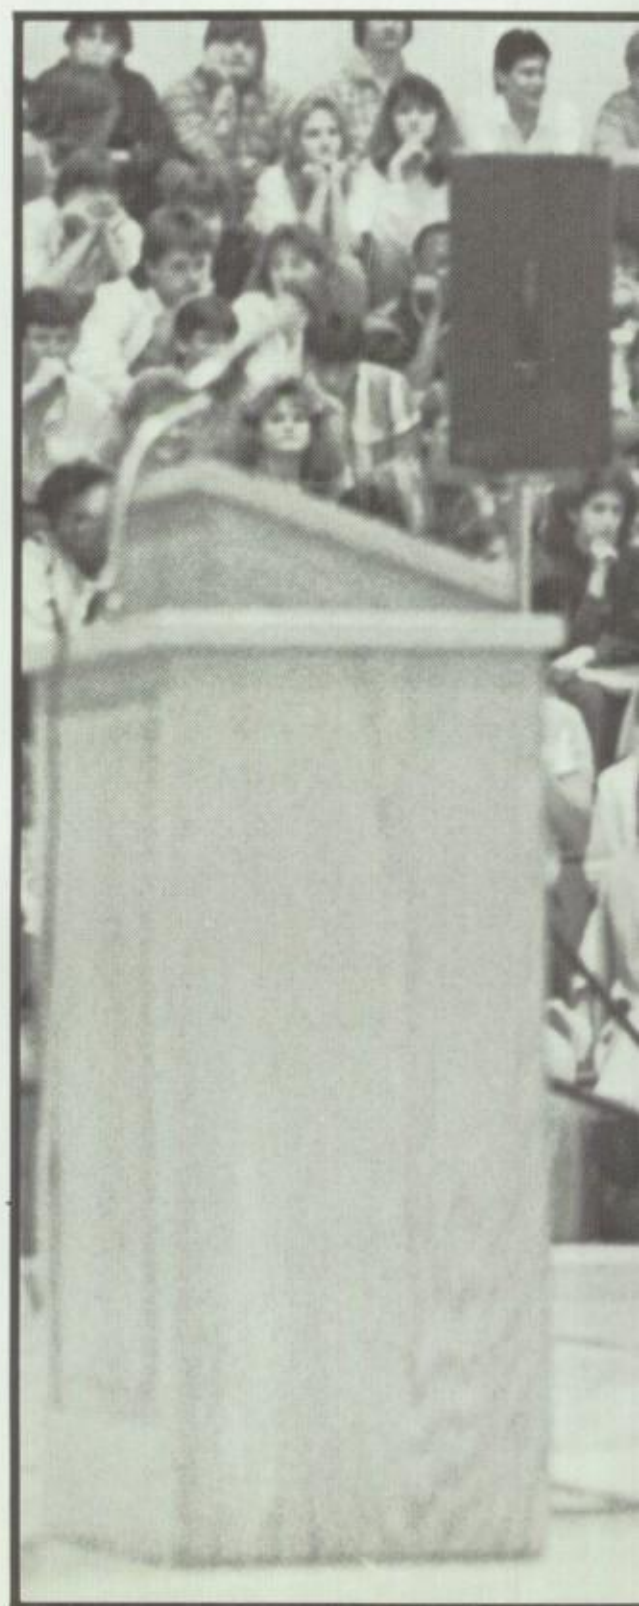

Politics. For some folks student council elections are the beginning of a long and feverish career. Eh governor?

Tryouts Cause Tension

No act is as laden with pressure as is trying out to be a cheerleader. In front of the entire student body, each girl must present her very best routine.

Cheerleader fever begins with tots who mimic the "big girls" at ballgames. Intermittent years are filled with dance lessons for grace and gymnastic lessons for finesse in acrobatics.

The announcement is made for all interested participants to sign up. Great anguish is displayed as girls return time and again to see what new competitor has been added to the list. Practices get underway. Each girl performs the same cheer hundreds of times.

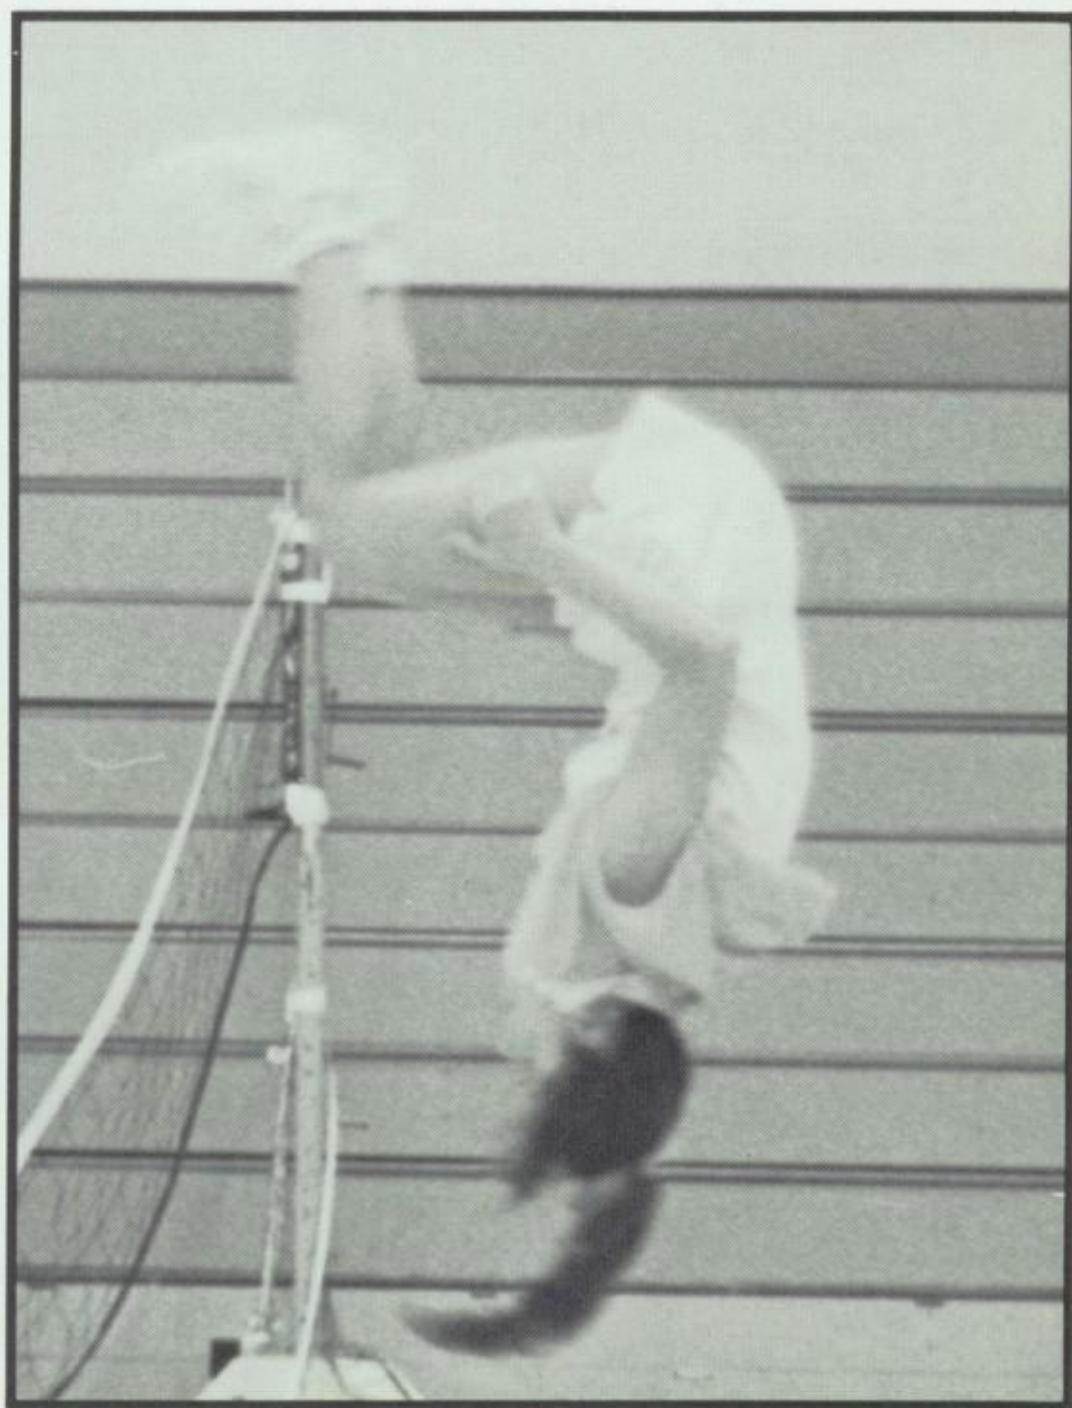

The day for tryouts draws closer. What to wear? A shopping spree ensues and everything from nail polish to shoe strings is coordinated. Then, the day comes. Veteran cheerleaders appear ashen faced much to the dismay of the new-comers. Sweaty palms and bursts of tears ensue.

The names are called, the cheers performed. There is a call back for group cheers. The crowd is quiet and thankfully polite.

After the tryouts, the students file to homerooms to vote. No one is sure they've made it. The day stretches endlessly with each one telling the other, "I just know you made it!" Then it's time to go home and wait for the phone to ring.

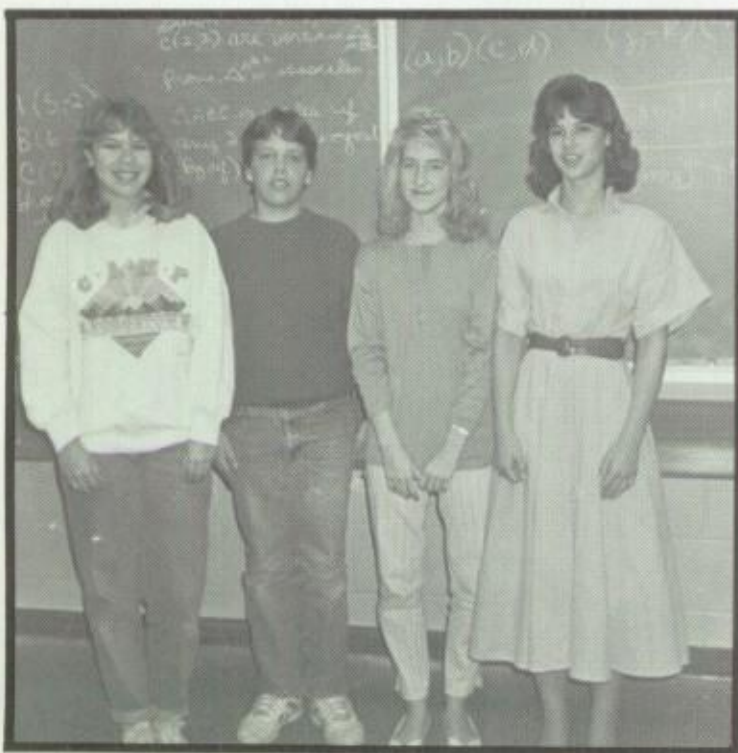

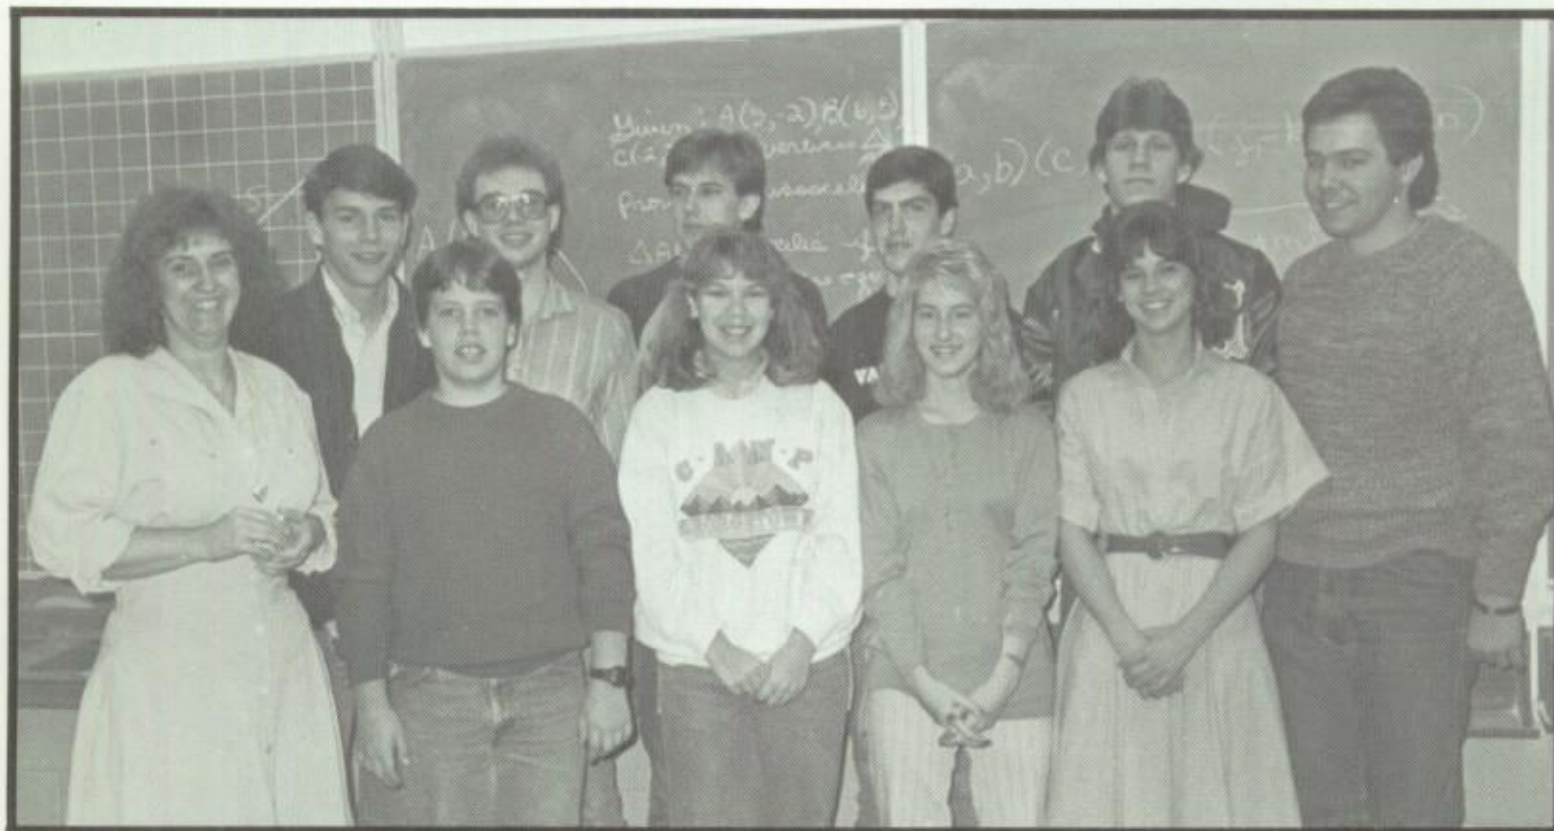

For some, there is victory, for others — there is next time or next year. Regardless of the outcome, the fact is — it takes a lot of guts to try out.

Team Sweeps Tourney

This year the best and brightest from every Advanced Placement Math class go to Volunteer State Community College for the annual Math Team Contest. The participants meet in the auditorium for instructions and introductions. Then each team goes to their individual testing areas for the tests. After the two hour tests, the students are allowed to eat lunch and return for the award ceremony. During the ceremony the teams gather in the auditorium and try to be as light-hearted as possible.

As the names are called for

As the names are called for the top ten places in each category, the students begin to realize to whom the team trophy belongs. Gallatin High School captures the Algebra I team trophy, the Algebra II team trophy, and the Comprehensive team trophy. The Geometry team takes the second place team trophy. The Advanced Topics Team does not place any in the top ten and, therefore, does not get a trophy. Although this is a disappointment, the math instructors do admit that it is the most challenging test of the contest.

"Faculty" Wins Again

Jams, ghetto blasters, food (everything from shrimp and fried chicken to steaks and ribs), sunglasses, and tennis rackets were all visible May 8, Senior Picnic day at Shelby Park.

The trip got underway with a lively bus ride wherein some sang, others had squirt gun fights, and a few tried to sleep. Everyone was raring to go when the buses reached the graffiti covered underpass leading to the park.

Almost immediately, picnic tables and blankets laden with enough food for twice the number of people present appeared.

While eating took most of the day, there was still time for sunbathing, swinging, hiking, and just goofing around.

At noon the annual faculty-student softball game got underway. The faculty team had outstanding help from empathetic seniors. However, the score was 10-2 with the "Faculty" winning.

Finally, it was time to load the buses and head home. The trip back seemed all too short as students reminisced about the day.

Meanwhile, the juniors all hoped it would rain.

Gaslight Hosts Prom

"Somewhere, Out There" filled the air at Opryland's Gaslight Theatre as over five hundred juniors and seniors danced to the music of Power Play. Rain threatened the evening around six o'clock, but did not return until midnight when only a few couples remained.

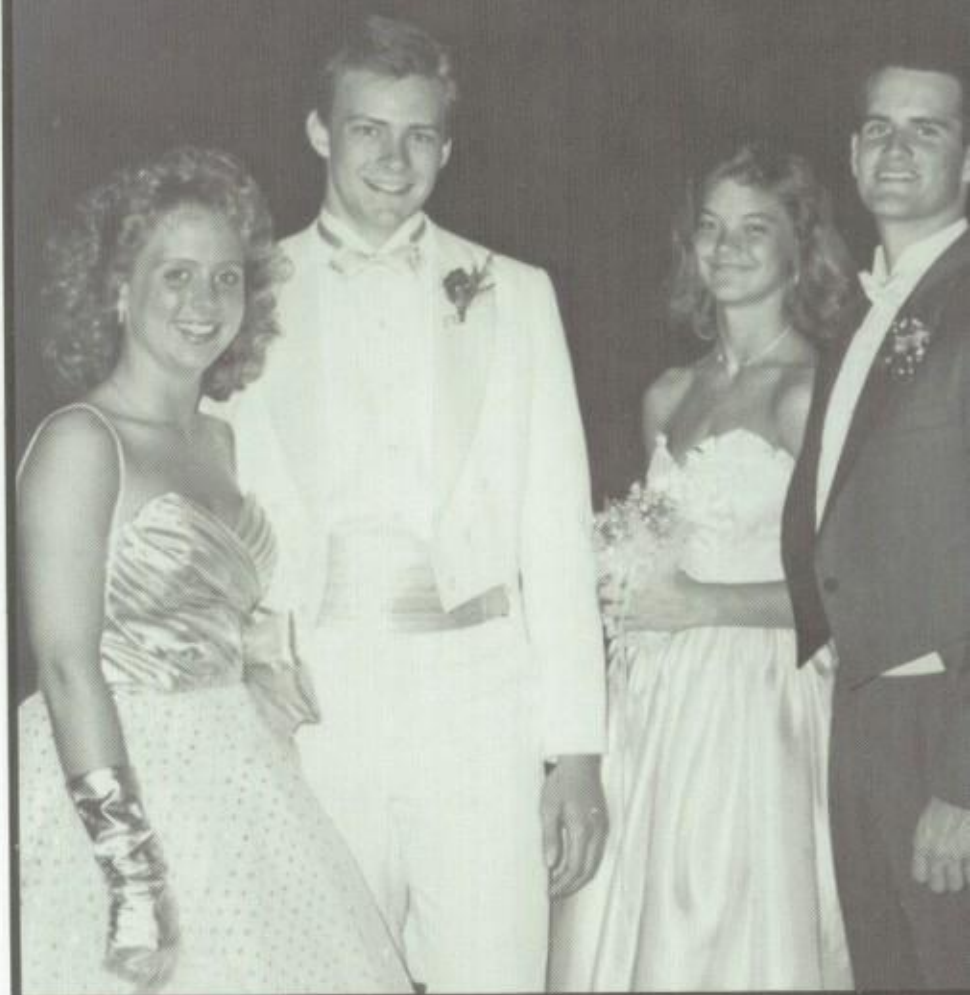

A lovely array of finger foods featuring petit fours, sandwiches, fresh vegetables with dip, and punch kept couples returning for more.

The band started the evening with fast songs, but soon realized that people only hit the dance floor for the slow numbers, such as the theme song.

At ten o'clock the superlatives gathered at the foot of the stage to be announced. There were surprises for some as the winners had been kept secret until Coach Stephenson read them. Each senior and his or her date was then presented in the senior walk followed by the announcement of Knight, Jeff Roberts and Lady, Cissy Patterson.

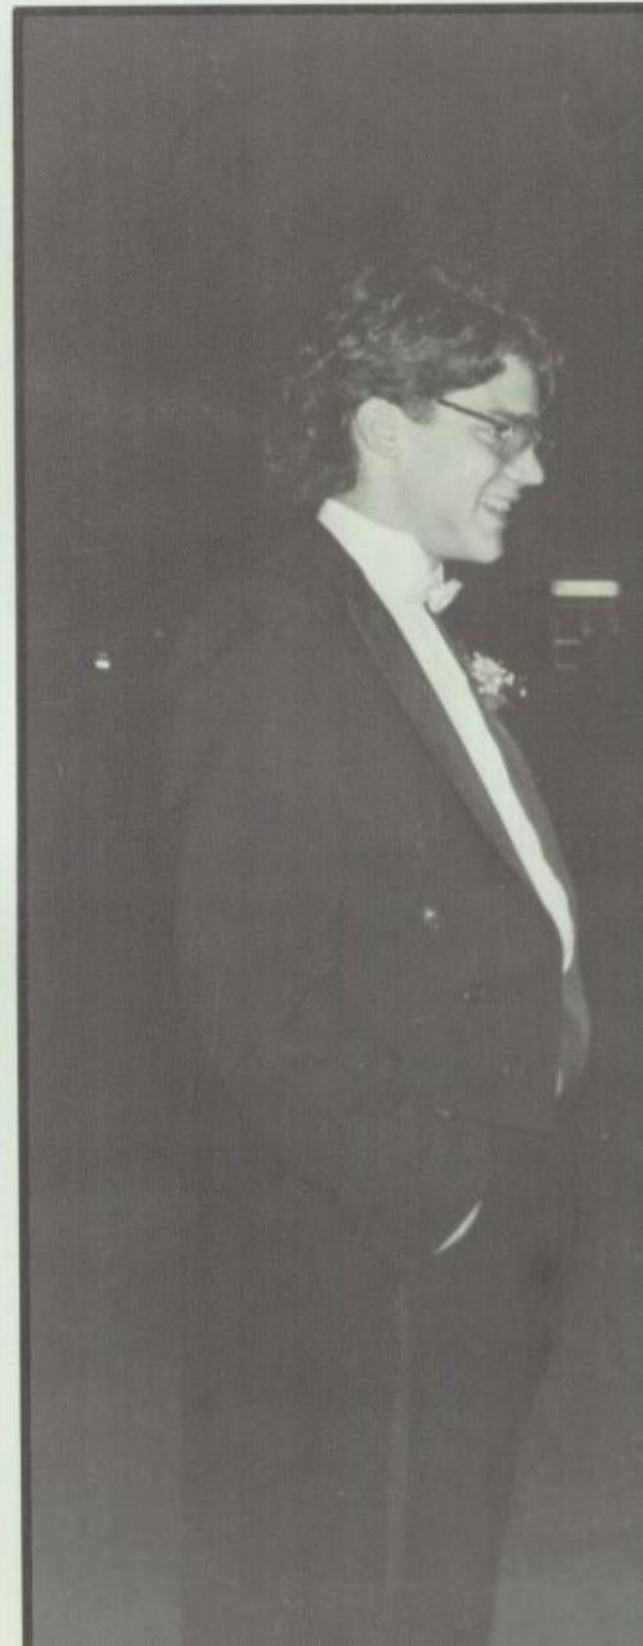

The crowd thinned quickly after the senior walk. The last two dozen couples stayed and danced until midnight.

Spring Sports Lauded

The annual Spring Sports banquet was held Memorial Day, May 25 in the Commons Area. Amy Lannom offered the invocation.

After the meal, the coaches presented awards and trophies. Winning awards for golf were David Coley, Boys MVP, Lorie Hammock, Girls MVP and sportsmanship award and Ty Kirby, Boys' sportsmanship.

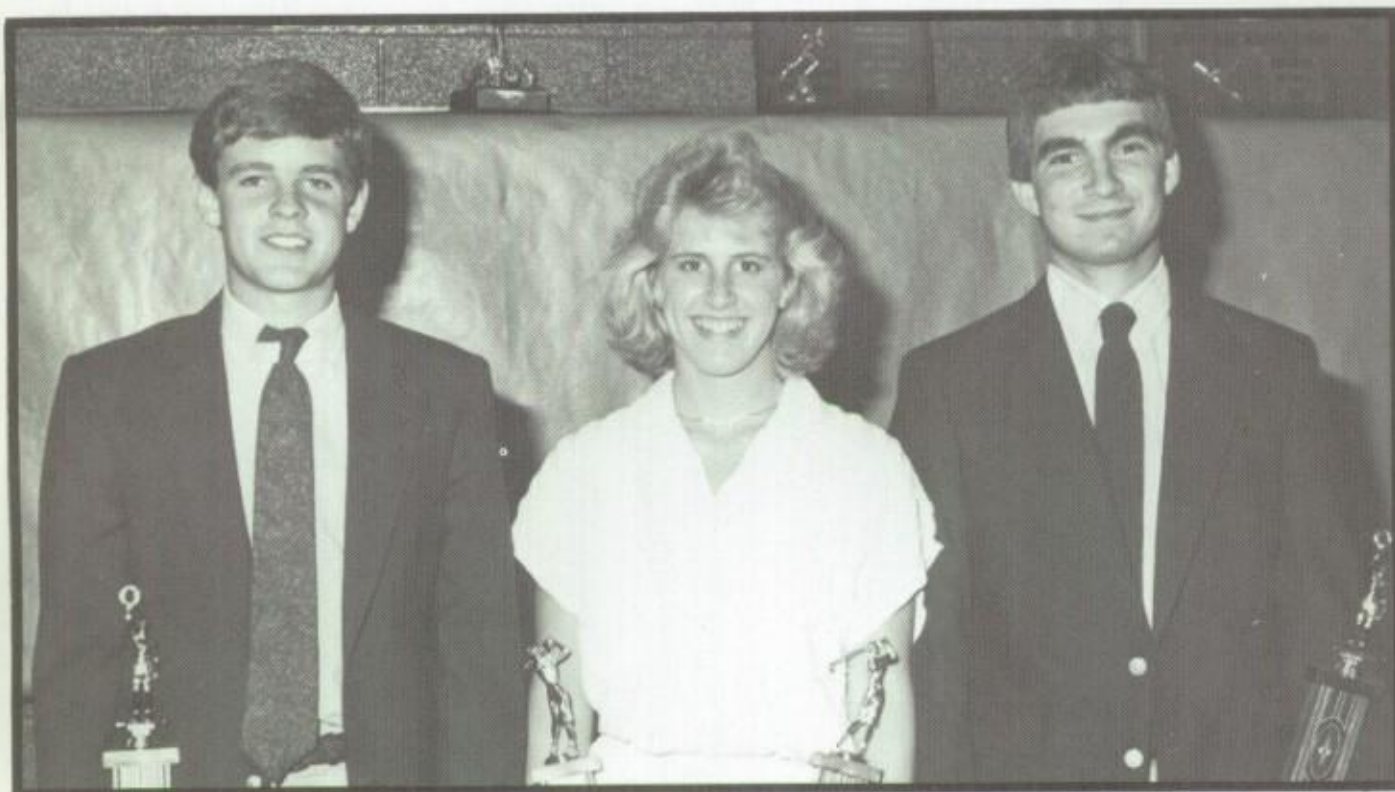

Soccer winners were Michael Thigpen, Boys MVP and Angie Harper, Girls' MVP while Tommy Arrendale and Mira Jane Borders took home the sportsmanship awards.

Tammy Holmes won the sportsmanship trophy for volleyball while Debbie Scott captured the MVP trophy. Debbie was also MVP in softball while Paula Porter won the sportsmanship award.

In boys' cross country, Mike Drash won the sportsmanship trophy while Tom Knapp earned MVP. For the girls, Kim Lee received the sportsmanship trophy and Anita Adams captured the MVP.

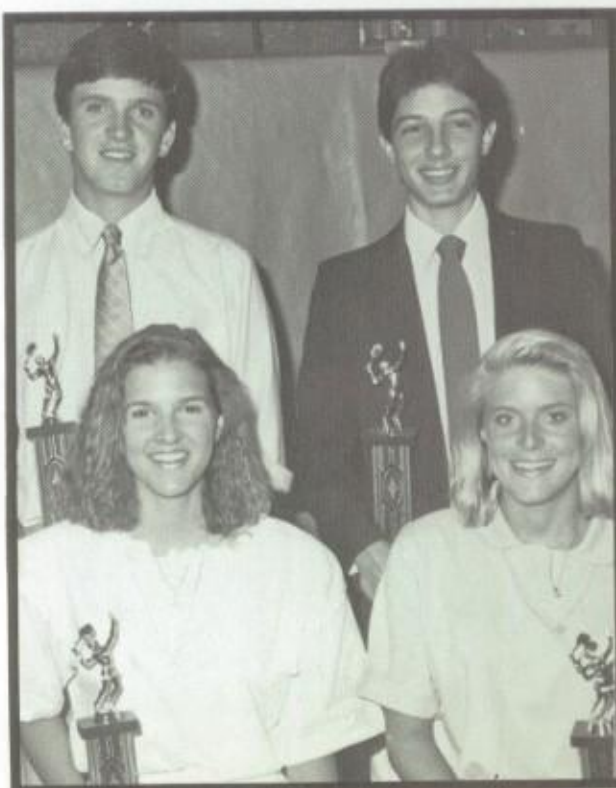

Byron McCollum took honors in baseball (sportsmanship) and track (he tied the State record in high jumping) while David Carson won the MVP in baseball.

Seniors Are Honored

Senior Honors Night was held May 21 for award winning seniors and their parents. The evening began at 6:00 when refreshments featuring cheeses, fresh fruits and desserts were served.

At 7:00, the program began. Mrs. Paula Wakefield, Mrs. Katherine Thurman and Mrs. Sandy Kizer served as Chairpersons. The program was divided into three parts beginning with scholarship winners, regional, state and national competitive events and special awards including superlatives.

Colin McKnight and Julie Hammonds performed the prom theme, "Somewhere, Out there," the Five Amigos with Keith Burns, Daryl Alexander, Rob Ring, Jody Condra and Todd Reynolds amused the crowd with "Two Kinds of Love" and Karen Phillips capped the entertainment with "Let's all be friends."

Class President, John Hancock delivered special remarks and various members of the faculty and community presented awards and scholarships.

Graduation Is Wet

After the last six weeks had FINALLY ended and exams had been survived, the band began emitting strains of "Pomp and Circumstance." Graduation practice reinforced the idea that the time had come.

It was the weather that marked the occasion. Perhaps P.A. was one of the few who remembered his umbrella. Twice before the ceremony began, the power failed leaving everyone concerned about lights, sound and air-conditioning. Seniors arrived with dripping hair and soggy gowns.

As if the downpour wasn't enough, the rain continued to beat incessantly. Some were the victims of a steady drip throughout the program.

In spite of the weather, the scholarships were announced and the diplomas given. The tassels were moved to the opposite side and the Alma Mater was sung midst tears and rain.

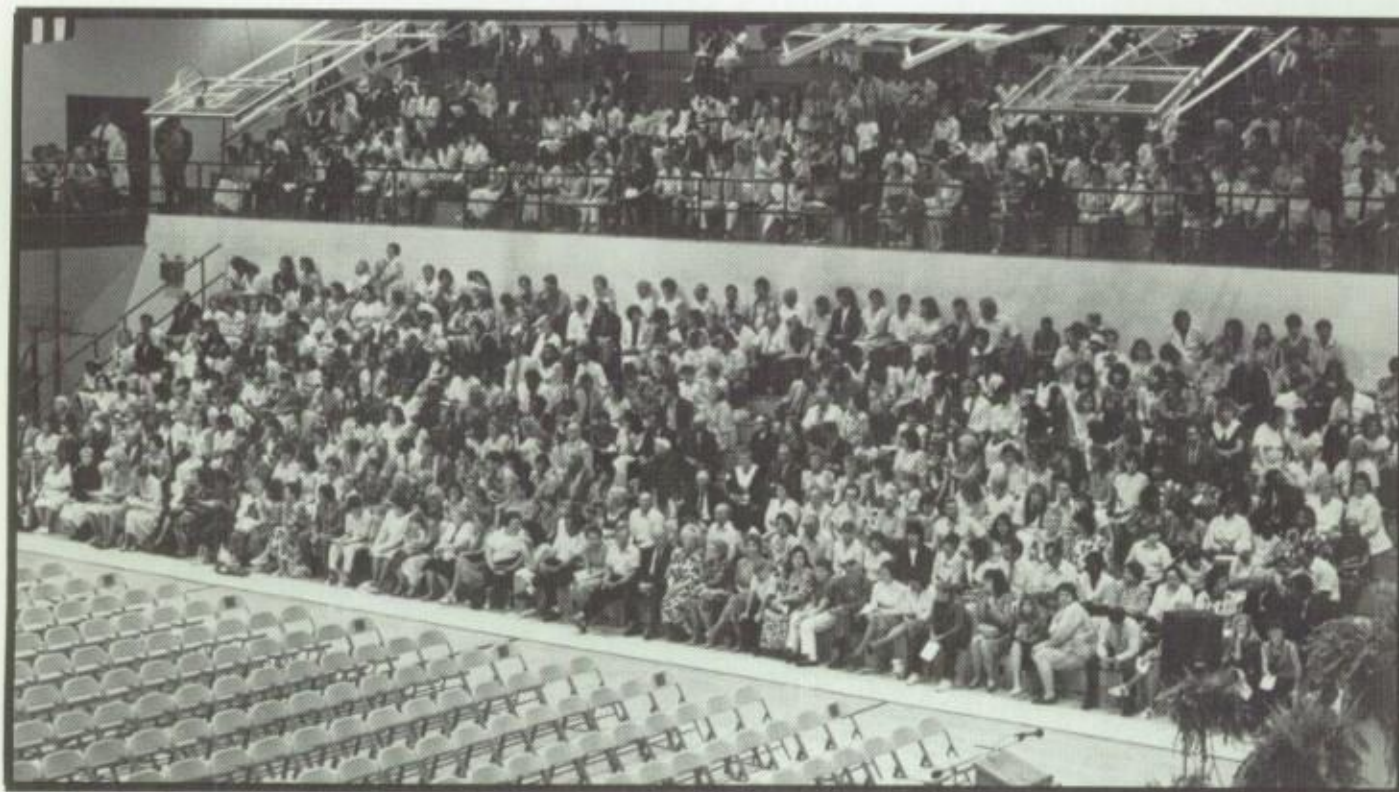

Then it was time for hugs and retrieval of "real" diplomas. P.A. commented that while it was wet, it was truly wonderful.

Baseball Closes 13-12

After a barn-burning start, the Gallatin baseball team had an up and down season, finishing 13-12 after losing to final-four-bound Smyrna in the quarterfinals of the District Tournament. The Wave opened up 5-0, downing perennial power Stratford and county-rival Hendersonville in the run.

From there, GHS was inconsistent, but concluded its season with a valiant 2-0 loss to Smyrna.

The Wave had lost 2-1 earlier in the season to the Bulldogs in a one-hitter by Paul Jones. Both times, sophomore Paul Jones was on the mound for GHS. He, along with teammates David Carson, Ty Kirby, and Byron McCollum, was selected All-County First Team in baseball.

Srs.' Farewell

For those of us who made it through agilities, our first game was our 100 inning game. As Coach Joslin said, "We looked a little rough but I'm sure we'll be our best by April." Throughout the season, there were many times we could have given up, but everyone would always pull together and keep spirits high. Even though competition was tough, we didn't let it get in the way of having fun. We went to Florida, and always kept the jokes rolling in practice. During Districts, we won a few tough ballgames before losing a close 2-1 ballgame to the eventual district champs.

We, as seniors, will always be able to look back on our accomplishments and be proud of them. As Seniors we play an important leadership role, and hope that someday in life we will be able to help others the way we helped our fellow teammates. We thank our coaches and teachers for the opportunities they have given us.

Thanks,

Girls Win State

The Lady Wave basketball team and Coach Gary Vanatta brought a distinct honor to Gallatin High this year — the honor of being crowned AAA State Champions. The Wave went through the entire season and tournament play undefeated with a 34-0 record. The Lady Wave returned only two talented starters from last year's team which also went to the State Tournament. Amy Lannom and Debbie Scott were the nucleus of this year's team which was aided by the inside power of senior Renay Adams. The Ladies defeated Maryville and Memphis Melrose for the right to play in the 1986-87 State Championship game against Oak Ridge. The Wave took the game to the wire, but held on to win 62-61. Debbie Scott was named Most Valuable Player in the tournament.

Boys Make State Tourney

The 1986-87 boy's varsity basketball team, in the beginning, was not expected to be district contenders. Through hard work and overcoming a height and speed disadvantage the Wave again took a trip to the State Tournament. The Wave did not return one starter from the previous season, but Coach Jerry Vradenburg rebuilt his team and became a 9-AAA powerhouse. The young team went through the district season with a never-say-never attitude and ended the regular season as district runner-up. The Wave defeated second ranked Murfreesboro Riverdale twice and gained respect in the Midstate. They ended up third in the District tournament, but came alive in the region. The Wave finished the season with a 23-9 record.

Girls Gain Experience

Though they weren't as successful as their male counterparts on a win-loss basis, the girls on the freshman basketball team learned the basics of competition on the high school level during the 1986-1987 season.

The girls' season ended in the District Tournament with a 64-48 loss to the Hawkins Lady Lakers, eventual winners of the tourney.

Gallatin's Keisha Stewart

poured in 23 points in the game, enough to gain her a spot on the All-Tournament team. Team members Tammy Litts, Stacy Chaplow, and Tammy Alexander also were key parts in the execution of team strategy.

The girls will move on to the varsity squad and attempt to repeat this year's championship season.

Frosh Record 15-2

The Freshman Wave basketball team had another banner year this season, finishing with a 15-2 record and winding up second in the district tournament. This year's prospects look exceptionally outstanding, as varsity coach Jerry Vradenburg remarked at the Freshman Banquet.

"I'm really excited about getting these kids for the varsity program," said Vradenburg. "They're some talented kids."

Cheering Demands Tough Training

Cheerleading is a demanding extra-curricular activity. Perhaps there was a time when good looks and personality were all that was necessary to win a slot on the squad. No more. Gymnastics training, competitive try-outs, and hard work quickly replace the glamour-image. Summer camp and weekly practices take additional time.

During the season they perform, their schedules must be flexible enough to allow for study time in addition to play-offs or tournaments. Often the hours are late and long, but the fact remains that the dream of countless girls is to cheer for the Wave.

Girls Wins State Twice

"Cross Country Lady Wave State Champs Again ..." So the headline read as the Gallatin Lady Wave brought home the State champion trophy for the second straight year, distancing the nearest competition in the state meet by 17 points.

This is the first time in history that a Gallatin High team has won the State Championship two years running.

"This was a great season for a great group of girls," stated Coach Don McPherson following the State meet.

"They really performed beautifully. Most importantly, however, they ran as a team and got the job done with style."

The boy's cross country team was young, yet successful. Led by senior, Mike Drash and juniors, Tom Knapp and Ken Johnson, the team completed a vigorous season.

Football Team Has Banner Season

Another banner year for Green Wave football! Yes, such is the case, as the mighty Green and Gold rolled up another impressive 11-2 record and advanced to the quarter-final round of the TSSAA State Playoffs before falling to Memphis Christain Brothers in a heart-breaking 16-14 contest.

The season had its share of ups and downs, ranging from a stunning 29-0 sloshing of the Henry County patriots in the first round of the playoffs, affectionately termed the "Mudbowl", to the disheartening 8-7 loss to district rival Mt. Juliet on a last second 46-yard field goal in the fourth game of the season.

Next year will see the addition of Oak Ridge and Germantown to the Wave's regular season bill.

Senior Bids Adieu

I have had many great experiences from playing football, some of which I won't ever forget. The most memorable is the togetherness of the team. After spending so much time together the team seems like one big family. It is sad, now I am out of football, to think that we will never all be back together again.

In your senior year you like to think that it is your last time to go through spring practice and the dreaded two-a-days. However, once it is over there is never another time that is as memorable. The game days are also a special time. At break, every player meets in the locker room. In the locker room, we say a few things to get in the right state to play. Then Mrs. Hilgadiack gives us all a piece of chocolate cake she makes for us. Then comes game time. There is a good feeling to hear the crowd count down the clock in a winning game.

There is not another team anywhere around that I would have rather played for in high school. It is certainly an experience that I won't forget.

Wave Drubs District

The Green Wave, in a characteristically Gallatin way, rolled off consecutive drubbings of district-rivals Springfield, Franklin, and Brentwood. They added to these victories over county and district-rivals Hendersonville and Beech.

This Gallatin team was somewhat different than GHS squads of the past, relying more on the pass than most Green Wave teams have.

The main reasons for this change were the blazing speed of receivers Sydney Collier, Timmy Tunstill, and Byron "Peahead" McColum, and the on-the-mark passing of quarterback Corey Lewis. Lewis, a junior, passed for 12 touchdowns and ran for 10 more, compiling 382 yds. on the ground.

Frosh End 5-2

The Gallatin Freshman Wave football squad had another outstanding season this year, finishing with a 5-2 record.

The Wave seemed unbeatable in their first games, as they only allowed 12 points in six games.

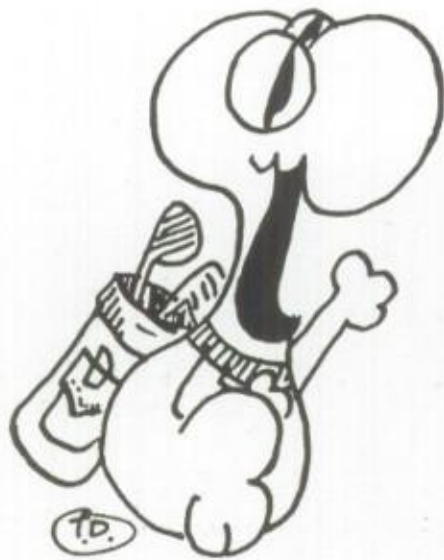

Things turned somewhat sour, however, in the seventh game, as the Thurman-Francis Rams traveled from Smyra to top the Green and Gold 14-0. The Green Wave wasn't able to rally from this loss, and lost in the final game of the season to the Mt. Juliet Golden Bears 27-0.

Despite the season-ending losses, the Freshman Wave were a "tight-knit group" and played some remarkable football.

The spark to the Wave offense was tailback Robert Rogan, who consistently rushed for 150+ yards per game. Rogan's biggest game was against Knox Doss, in which he gained 256 yards on 27 carries.

The Gallatin boy's golf team had another outstanding year, following last year's record with an excellent 31-3 mark heading into the state tournament in October. The team's smooth road to the tourney turned somewhat bumpy as they entered the season-ending competition, and the Wave came away from their second-straight state tournament berth with an eighth place finish. "All of the praise in the world goes to the kids," said a satisfied Coach Jerry Vradenburg after the competition. "We may not have played as well in the state as we have at times during the regular season, but we still had a super year."

TSSAA Soccer/8-4-2

The Green Wave soccer team had an extremely successful season under the direction of first-year coach Terry Shrock, finishing 8-4-2 after reaching the quarterfinals of the region tournament.

1987 was the first year that soccer teams across the State were able to compete on the high school varsity level as a TSSAA sanctioned sport. Previously, squads competed as "club teams" without sanctioning.

The "footballers" opened the season with four straight wins, one which came over state-ranked Brentwood, a 1-0 game played at Vol State.

The Wave then went on a two-loss, two-tie streak before closing the regular season with four wins in the last five games on the schedule.

Softball Makes Sub-State

Under the direction of first-year coach Glen May, the Galatin softball team had a remarkable season, finishing 22-4 with a heart-breaking loss to the Father Ryan Lady Irish in the substate game.

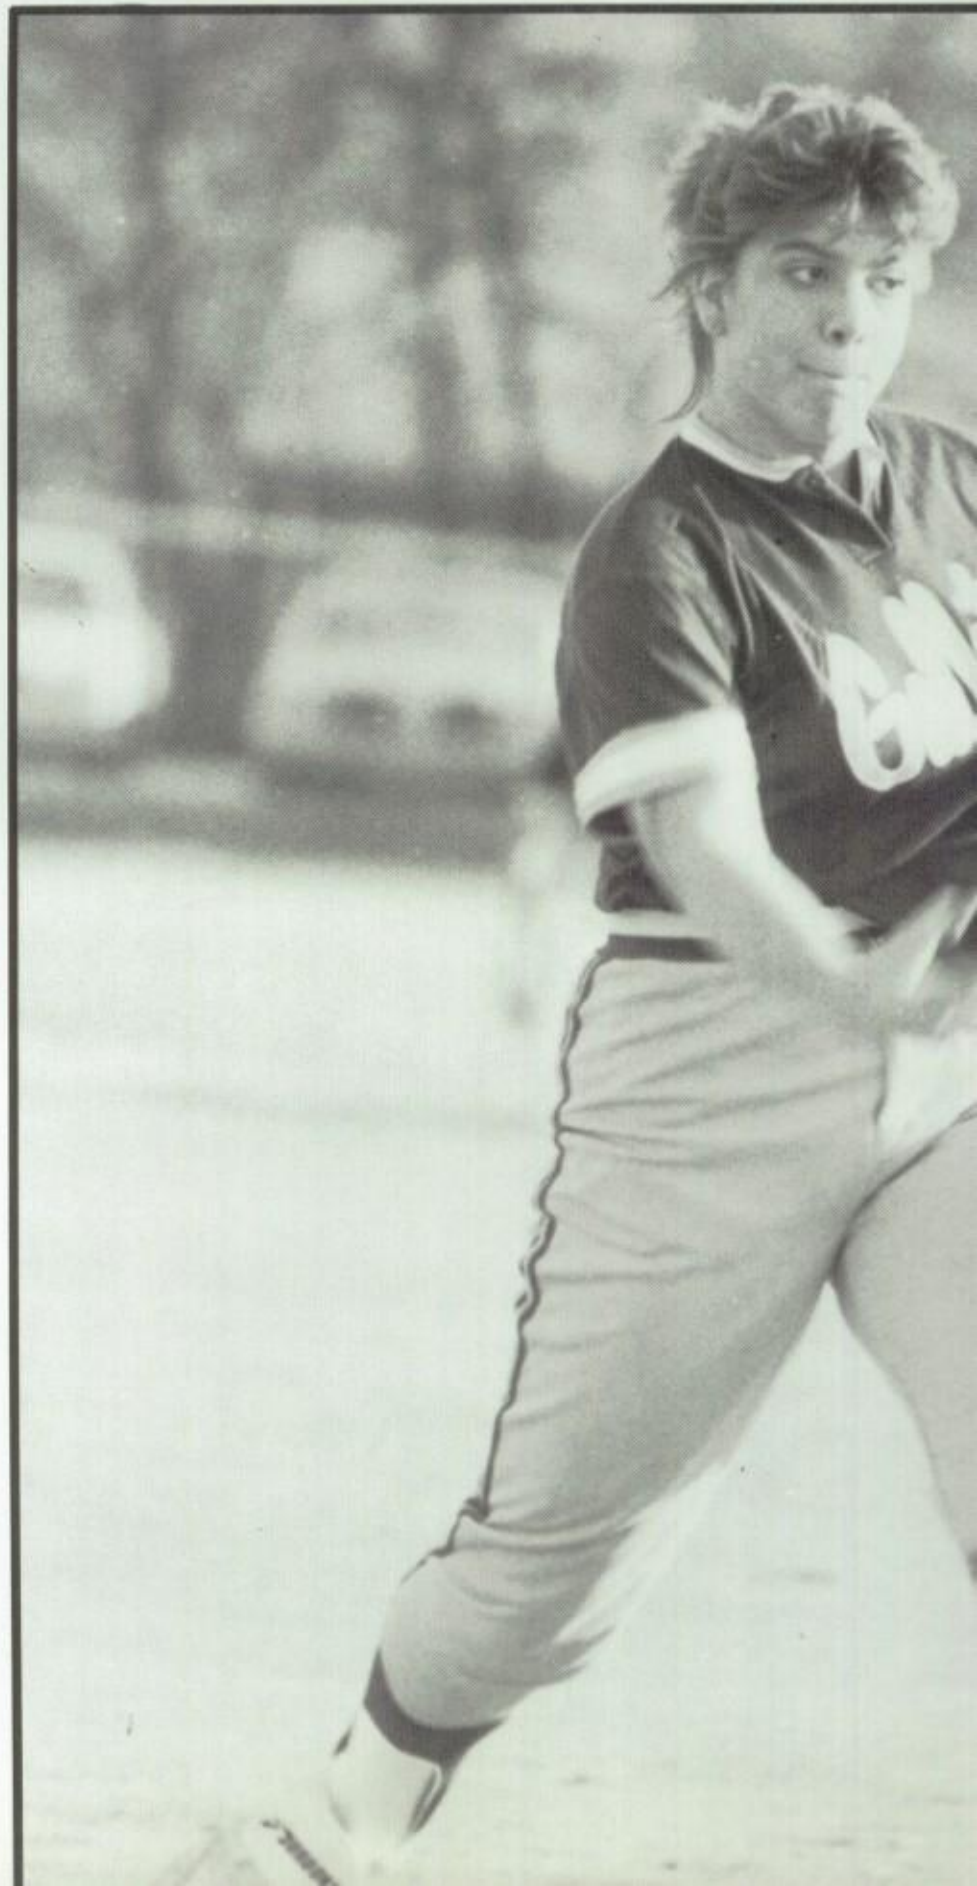

The Wave made it to the final eight behind the pitching and hitting of Debbie Scott, who was 18-2 from the mound and batted .476, as well as seniors Tammy Holmes and Paula Porter, junior Puddin' Fulcher, and

In the season-ending loss to Ryan, Holmes hit two over-the-fence homers, a feat never accomplished in the history of Sumner County fastpitch softball.

Holmes was the main stay behind the plate, while Smith, Fulcher, and Porter were the keys to the infield, playing third, short, and first, respectively.

Three Netters Make Region

The girl's and boy's tennis teams had successful seasons in 1987 winding up second and third respectively in the District 18 Tennis Tournament. Elizabeth Lorenz finished second in singles, and Cissy Patterson finished third. In the boy's singles draw, Jeff Patterson finished fourth. The three advanced to the Region 5 tournament. Faced with stiff competition from the Nashville area, they all fell in the first round of action.

The girl's team, who finished with a record of 8-3, were led by the experience of five seniors. The boys, however, finished 8-2 with the leadership of only one senior.

Coach Borders is optimistic about next year's boy's team. The majority of them are returning to compete.

Track Team Sends Two/State

The Gallatin girls' track team sent one competitor to the state meet at MBA in 1987. The team as a whole placed eighth in the Region Track Meet.

Gallatin's Julie Neal went to the state meet in the 1600-meter run, while Renay Adams was third in the shot at 34-11, one place from qualifying.

In the season finale Region meet, Kim Lee was sixth and Joann Mullins seventh in the 3200-meter run, while Latrechia Walker took fifth in the 100-meter hurdles.

The boys' track team had a successful year on the basis of individual achievements, as two members of the team, Byron McCollum and Donnie Maib qualified for the state meet, and McCollum brought home GHS's third state championship of the 1986-87 school year, with first in the high jump.

Spikers Mix Sweat With Success

The Gallatin High volleyball team had their most successful season ever in 1986, finishing with a 17-9 overall record.

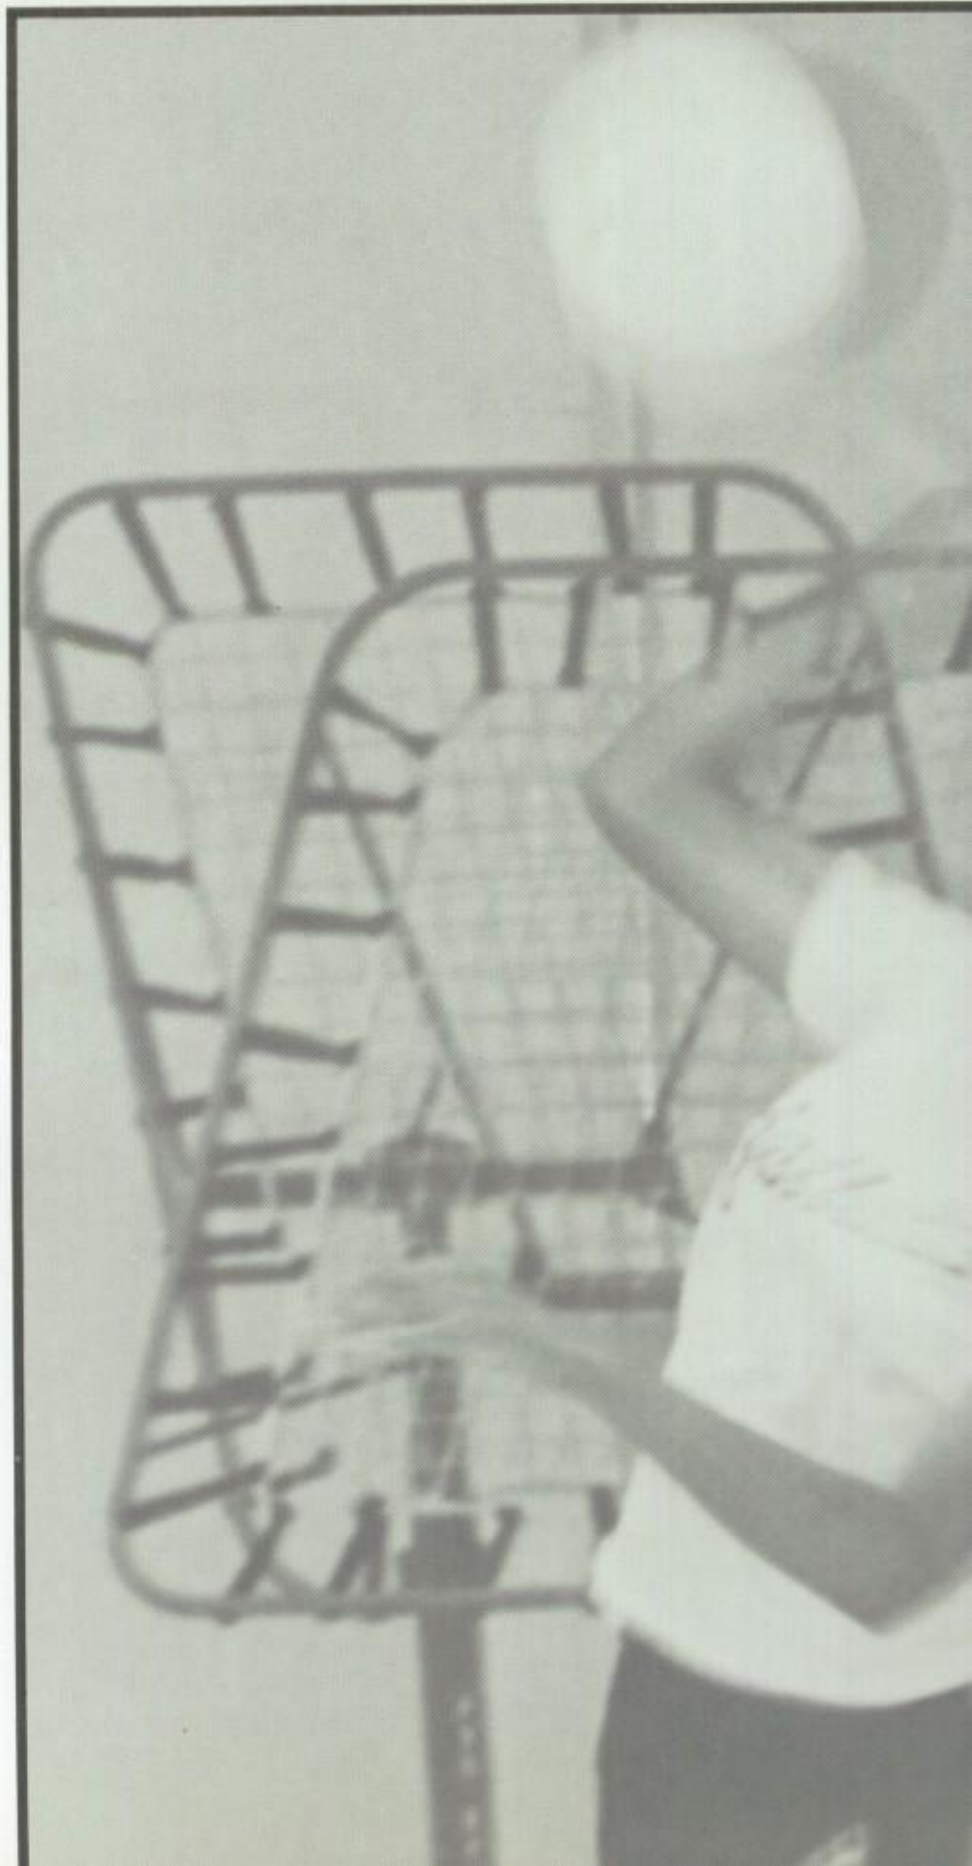

The girls placed second in the district tournament, allowing them to advance into the region tourney.

In the region, GHS fell in the first round, capping the season with a loss to highly-favored White County.

En route to the regional the Lady Wave topped Friendship Christian in the opener of the district tourney, and followed with a victory over the Trousdale County Yellow Jackets, who finished on top of the district in the regular season.

The highlight of the season was the back-to-back victories over Beech and Hendersonville.

Pride Of The Green Wave

The Gallatin band participated in several civic functions in '86. Aside from aiding in the grand opening of the new Gallatin Shopping Center, they also attended the anniversary festival of the Rivergate Toyota showroom. The organization also was selected to represent Sumner County in Governor Ned McWherter's inaugural parade.

The high school Jazz Band is an organization comprised of a select few from the concert band members. This branch of the band plays contemporary styles of music to a variety of audiences. This group prepares to play at various functions and social events. Aside from being an educational experience for the members, the Jazz Band provides more social exposure for the entire organization. The Jazz Band allows the band members to increase their knowledge and to face more challenging musical goals.

Domenic and Dallas get ready to leave.

Along with civic appearances and Jazz Band, the band receives exposure by sponsoring a concert to raise money for their budget. Performing at the concert was the group "Hot Country", a popular Pop-Country musical group. The concert took place at the Sumner County Fairgrounds and was enjoyed by all who attended.

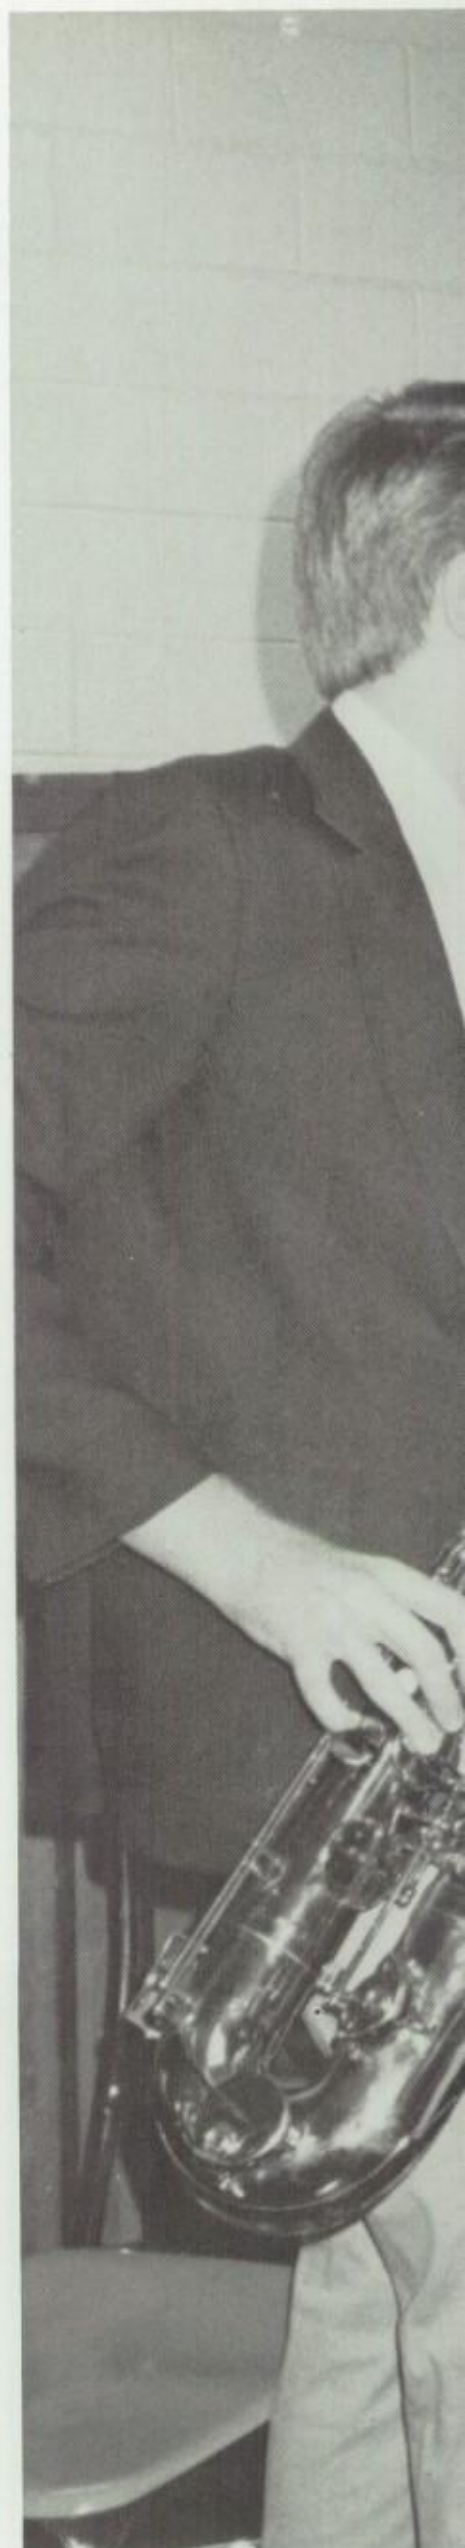

During the spring break the entire band took a tour of New York, and Washington D.C. The trip lasted six days, with three in New York, and two in D.C. The main objective of the trip was to allow the members to see the historic landmarks of these states.

While in New York the Group toured the NBC studio, ate at Mama Leona's restaurant, and then to the Empire State Building.

In Washington the band visited the Smithsonian Institute.

Band Earns Superior

The Pride of the Green Wave Marching Band had a remarkable year in '86. Under the direction of James Story, Glenn Martin, and Mark Graham it exhibited excellent performances in all aspects. The band entertained the crowds at football games with its display of exciting sound and intricate marching maneuvers. They repeatedly received standing ovations for the patriotic selections of "Battle Hymn" and "God Bless the U.S.A." commemorating the Tennessee Homecoming '86 theme.

At contest the band continued to display its excellence by proving once more that it is the best. It received superior ratings at Middle Tennessee School Band and Orchestra Association Marching Festival and competed in the Columbia Invitational. At this contest the band competed in the preliminary and later advanced to the finals. The band represents the pride that students have in their school.

Tri-Hi-Y Adds Thirty-three

Tri-Hi-Y is a service organization composed of girls who work to serve both the high school and community. Points are earned by working around school or doing various service projects.

This year Tri-Hi-Y inducted thirty-three new members. The induction exercises were held at the First Baptist Church on February fifth.

Each month the girls select a beau of the month from the senior class. In addition, they select a gentleman of the year. Jeff Roberts has been selected as gentleman this year, while beaus include Keith Beasley, Jim Gilliam, Brian Armistead, Lorenzo Lucarelli and Tommy Arrendale.

Officers for the club are President: Cissy Patterson, First Vice President: Kelly Short, Second Vice President: Karen Phillips, Secretary: Kim Dowland, Treasurer: Leigh Mattox, Sargeant at Arms: Beth Todd, Chaplain: LeAnne Haile, and Historian: Shelby Patterson. Performers Sing/Dance Shows performer band consists of Glenda Hart, Michelle Erickson, Steve Cook, and Menic Deleonibus.

The Gallatin High Performers are a jazz/pop show choir. Their music is made exciting by the staging and costumes they utilize.

Performing for the community at Twitty City, Fairvue and the Donnelly Printing Employees Christmas dinner, the Performers are well known. In addition to these performances, the group sang at the Christian Towers Christmas luncheon, the Southern Association Banquet, basketball homecoming, the All-County choral Festival and for Cabaret. The civic clubs have also hosted them at their meetings.

Costumes for the group include sparkling blue dresses for the girls while the guys wear a tuxedo shirt, slacks and blue tie and cummerbund. For casual wear the group has gray sweatshirts with Opus.

To be a member of this specialty group, one must audition. Auditions include singing and dancing. Competition is stiff and few are able to make the final group which has only sixteen members.

The music includes contemporary pop songs, jazz classics, and classical selections. Special Christmas selections are chosen for the group.

Practices are held beyond the school day. A special choreographer works with the dance routine. Videotape is used for learning the steps and critiquing progress.

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America was organized in May of 1964 in Nashville Tennessee. The Gallatin H.S. chapter was organized in the fall of 1976 after the new main building was completed and the vocational classes, as we know them today, had all been in operation. Gallatin Sr. High School was granted Tennessee V.I.C.A. charter #19.

V.I.C.A. is basically a youth leadership organization with emphasis being placed on the practice of leadership skills, not only in the classroom or shop, but becoming familiar with parliamentary procedure through our local classroom club meetings, taking part in the Mid Cumberland Council skills contests, with the winners advancing to the state and national contests. Most of the classes are set up to parallel industry in that they have crew leader, shop foremen etc.

The V.I.C.A. students have an opportunity to go to Camp Clement near Doyle Tennessee for one week during the summer, and there receive additional training in carrying out the duties of their respective clubs i.e. President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer etc. Also a well organized sports program is enjoyed and participated in by each person attending to insure healthy bodies as well as alert and healthy minds.

FFA Tests Skills

The Gallatin Chapter of the FFA has been busy this year. A five person team of sophomores competed in the soil mixing contest at Portland High. Students also competed in the parliamentary procedure competition. Mr. Walker, the Ag. teacher, took a group of students to the National FFA competition in Kansas City, Missouri.

In January agriculture students prepared public speeches for the extemporaneous speaking contest. In February the skills contests were held.

The Awards Chapter Banquet was held in November at City Hall. The FFA wrapped up their year with the plant sale.

The State Convention in Gatlinburg will be attended by the newly elected officers and state award winners.

FCA Stresses Values

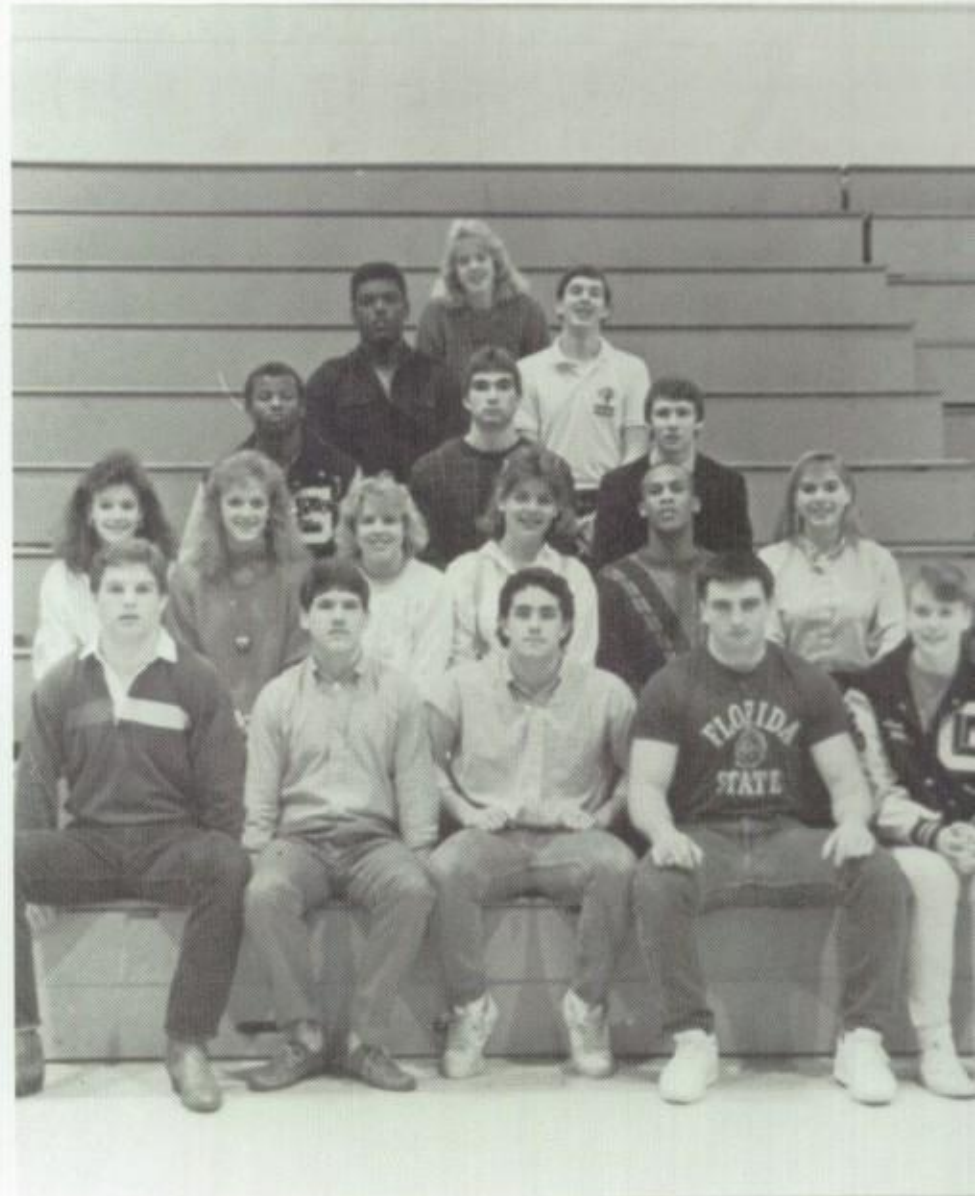

F.C.A. (Fellowship of Christian Athletes) is a club designed for students that participate in any athletics such as: Basketball, Baseball, Cheerleading, Football, Soccer or any other sporting activity. F.C.A. is for anyone involved in sports, whether it be a school related sport or a community related sport. F.C.A. members have a common ground or being athletically inclined and having strong Christian values. F.C.A. helps its members to become strong leaders in church and community when they further their goals in life after graduation. F.C.A. members recognize their advantages of being athletic, one of which is being healthy and physically able to compete. The programs for the F.C.A. meetings focus on topics including nutrition, fitness, spirituality and wholeness of being. Students desire to grow in grace and body. The club has increased in membership.

DECA Runs Bookstore

Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) is a national organization open to members enrolled in marketing. This club affords students opportunities for travel, leadership, personal growth and fun. The Deca Chapter at Gallatin Senior High participates in many civic, social, and leadership activities. Included in these activities are banquets, going to haunted houses, parties for underprivileged children at Christmas, ice cream parties, and attending District, State, and National Conferences and Competitive Events. This past year, the Gallatin Chapter of Deca doubled in size from 28 members to 56. The major goal of Deca is to have continued growth and participation. Maurdi Kelly, who is a junior member, won 1st place in state competition and attended the National Career Development Conference. The conference was held in New Orleans, Louisiana from April 29-May 3.

Mrs. Lisa Suddarth is DECA sponsor.

GHS Offers Service

The Giving, Helping, and Serving (GHS) Club has much to offer to Gallatin Senior High School and to the city of Gallatin.

Some of the club's activities include visiting nursing homes and arranging parties at day care centers. These visits seem to brighten many people's day.

Every year at Thanksgiving the club members and sponsors join together to collect food for the needy. People are encouraged to help and then realize the importance of this yearly tradition.

Each month a bulletin board is changed to highlight seasons and events. Groups of club members are responsible for this activity.

A scholarship is given to a senior in the club at the end of the year.

The GHS sponsors for this year are Mrs. Miller (not pictured), and Mrs. Kizer.

Key Is Help

The Key Club is an organization which is aided by their sponsor, the Kiwanis Club. Through their work in the home, school, and community, they prepare themselves for the future. The Key Club gives the members the opportunity to meet local business, civic, and professional leaders. Each Wednesday, two members of Key Club go to Gallatin City Hall to have lunch with the Kiwanis Club. Each year the Key Club gives a $500 scholarship to a deserving student. The boys provided a flagpole for Senior Citizen Center in Gallatin. They also cleaned up around the Senior Citizen Center building. Some of the boys worked at the annual Kiwanis Auction. The money from the auction goes to various community activities. Several members were sent to a convention in Chattanooga. Just for fun, the Kiwanis Club and Key Club have a basketball game. Bob Lannon is the sponsor of the club. This year's sweetheart is Sheree Abernathy.

JTG Promotes Careers

"From Classrooms To Career" — This is a motto formed by Jobs for Tennessee Graduates, which helps students to be placed in a job after graduation. This organization began in 1981 in Shelby County and initiated by Governor Alexander to reduce unemployment in Tennessee. It was introduced to Gallatin High School in the 1985-86 school year and has been a big success. Under the teaching of Mrs. Armbruster the class now has 41 seniors in the program. Gallatin is one of 70 high schools in Tennessee with over 3,000 seniors participating in the group. They have three main points to keep — one: goal setting, two: interviews, three: job skills. These are three subjects that are dealt with throughout the program. After being placed in a job, Jobs for Tennessee Graduates keeps a nine month follow-up period.

Tennessee Tomorrow Says "No" To Drugs

The Tennessee Tomorrow Club enjoys being active. This year has been a year full of excitement. A group of the club's members have joined together to help promote the new Just Say No Club. These members visit local schools and help them to understand the values of the club and also talk of the dangers in taking drugs and drinking alcohol.

When Christmas arrived, all the members gave money and bought presents for a needy family.

Seven members of the club attended Government Days in Nashville and received a look at politics in Tennessee.

In addition to these activities, the club also participated in voter registration. During lunch, tables were set up in the commons area, staffed by club members, to register eighteen year olds prior to the November election.

Another service project involved students helping to move books at Wynnewood.

The Tennessee Tomorrow students took a special interest in the November gubernatorial race and attempted to have the candidates debate in an open forum at the high school.

International Club Expands

The International Club is composed of three separate and distinct organizations, which are French Club, Spanish Club, and German Club.

The French Club is led this year by President Biren Patel and the sponsor Mrs. Reasonover. Among the many activities that kept them busy throughout the year was the Christmas party. Students decorated the tree and sang French carols.

A new addition to the Spanish Club was Mrs. Miller, who kept the students busy with projects as the year progressed. Under the leadership of Ms. Cindy Gaba, President Kelly Short, and the other officers, the Spanish Club sold candles to raise money for each language department. They also competed in the Foreign Language competition in Knoxville on April third and fourth. The third year students tutored the elementary children in French and Spanish.

This year a new club was introduced to Gallatin High School. The German Club, under the guidance of Mrs. Walker, sponsor, and President Shauna Dotson, was shown a more inclusive view of German culture. This year, members of the German Club journeyed to Sewanee, Tennessee, for the German Fruehling Festival and competition.

Beta Club Inducts Members

The Gallatin Senior High Beta Club underwent one of its more active years ever during 1986-87. This year marked the club's entrance into district action.

The Beta Club's annual induction ceremony was held on January 22, 1987. The club officers are: Keith Beasley, President; Rob Ring, Vice-President; Cissy Patterson, Secretary; and Julie Hammond, Treasurer. Fifty-eight new members were inducted into the Beta Club during the exercises.

The club attended the State Convention in Nashville on April 3-5.

The Beta Club is sponsored by Betty Mayberry and Katherine Thurman.

Council Offers Concert

The Student Council consists of forty members elected from each of the classes. The duties of the Student Council are to promote loyalty and school spirit, and to encourage other students to grow in self direction. Throughout the school year, student council members participate in several activities. The most important, is the giving away of three $600 scholarships. Therefore the council raises money by selling candy. The Student Council also sponsors homecoming and builds the float for the Homecoming Court. At home football games and before and after school, selected members raise and lower the flag. During Christmas, each member brings a present for a needy child and also decorates a tree for the school. The Student Council President, Jeff Roberts, makes announcements each morning and afternoon over the P.A.

Sponsors are: Mrs. Ruth Hagerty, Mrs. Nancy Rutledge, Mrs. Karla Kirby, and Mrs. Lynn Coley.

Annual Catches Wave

To create a book that captures the year is the goal of the 1987 yearbook staff, led by Lisa Chandler, Editor. After brainstorming within the group, the theme of "Catch the Wave" seems to fit. The obvious fashion fad with soft drink logos on everything from shirts to key rings serves as another influencing factor. This is a student book — done for students, by students. To underscore the influence of student life, the staff has created P.A. (Party Animal) via Terry Davis. Serving as editors for the senior section and the honors section are Terry Davis and Kathy Simpson. The junior class belongs to Elizabeth Lorenz and Elizabeth Hagerty, the sophomores to Leonard Roberts and Pat Clark and the freshman to Bridgett Martin and Mike Page. Other sections include sports under Lorenz, Hagerty, and Martin; organizations under Roberts, Page, and Clark; and Ads under Simpson.

HOSA Has Health Fair

Health Occupations' Students of America is a vocational club composed of students taking health occupations. These students are under the leadership of Mrs. McCrary. HOSA is a club formed for those who are interested in pursuing a medical career. Members of HOSA have attended a regional competition, and a state conference. Participants also were responsible for the annual blood mobile and the Information Health Fair. Officers include: Keith Taylor, President; Missy Sparks, Vice-President; Shelley Cole, Secretary; Penny Ferguson, Treasurer; Tina Harden, Historian; Robin Willis, Representative; Tammy Rogers, Parliamentarian; and Roxanne Herndon, Sentinel.

Computers Match Mates

Computer Data Processing is designed to provide academic training and hands-on experience in the areas of data processing, concepts, computer programming, computer operations, and systems concepts.

Computer Data Processing students are encouraged to affiliate with the O.E.A. This affiliation gives the students an opportunity to compete on the regional, state, and national level with other students in areas of computer knowledge and use.

Second-year students this year were involved in a match mate program which matched each student with every other student with whom they shared similar interests and characteristics in the school. This project was most enjoyable and was a good fund raiser.

Print/Broadcast Are Media

The Mass Media Journalism Class at Gallatin Senior High is a well-rounded course, touching all phases of journalism. Both the print and broadcast medium are covered during the year.

Students are introduced to radio broadcast at the beginning of the school year. After field trips to the local radio stations and guest speakers from the radio field, students receive radio broadcast license and take to the airwaves. This year WVCP 88, Vol State, and WAMG have offered students the experience of producing weekly radio programs.

In addition to producing radio programs, journalism students publish a quarterly newsletter that is mailed home to parents.

Finally the long awaited senior paper comes out. Having gained experience through writing articles for the Gallatin News Examiner throughout the year, students utilize their talents to create the Green Wave Gallery.

Below: Mrs. Judy Bivens is the Journalism sponsor.

Interact Is Service

This Year at GHS many new clubs were added. The Interact Club is one such club. The Interact Club is designed to help in community services and projects.

Throughout the school year the Club has participated in community related activities. In cooperation with the Gallatin Rotary Club they took part in the Mayor for a Day which made club members more aware of Gallatin city government and how local business took place. The club also was involved in preparations for the Great Sumner County Foot Race, which took place in March.

The Founding officers for the Interact Club were President, Ed Oldham; Vice-President, Rob Ring; Treasurer Mira Jane Borders; Secretary, Dameron Tennant; and Sergeant at-arms, Kenny Chaffin. Sponsor for the club is Mrs. Betty Mayberry.

NFL/Thespians Are New

The National Forensic League is a newly formed organization, which challenges the student's talents in speaking, interpretation, and acting. Gallatin's affiliate membership was chartered in October of 1986. Under the direction of Speech and Drama teacher, Kimberly Reed, the team ended the season on a victorious note at Goodpasture school were Becky Stout walked away with the team's first championship with a first place in poetry interpretation. Laura Black finished seventh in extemporaneous speaking. The first GHS student to become a member of the National Forensic League is Tracy Warren. Closely behind are Becky Stout, Laura Black and Joanna Sloan, a freshman who only lacks one point.

Another new club is the Thespians, a drama club, whose goal is to serve as a support group for theatre. Prospective members must finish three hours of technical work.

February 15 was the formal initiation. All initiates had to dress as a character assigned to them. At the initiation, speeches were given by Cissy Patterson, Dan Puryear, and Cheryl Gregory. Becky Stout performed her award winning poetry interpretation. Ms. Reed also serves as Thespian sponsor.

OEA Competes

The Office Education Association is one in which students may be members at the local, state, and national level.

In order to become a member, the student must enroll in a vocational office education course.

The election of officers is for all interested students. Each student running for an office must sign up and present a campaign speech. The other members of OEA then vote by ballot and elect OEA's officers for the year. The election of officers is held at the first OEA Chapter meeting.

Members of the organization are able to compete in contests on the regional, state, and national level. The contest involves all areas of office education skills. Many students have had the opportunity in the national OEA leadership conferences and contests in such cities as Detroit, Chicago, Dallas, Houston, and Des Moines.

The Gallatin Senior High School Future Homemakers of America Chapter began its year in the summer of '86 with four chapter members attending the National Leadership Conference which was held in Orlando, Florida.

In August, the chapter held its officer election. The officers are as follows: President, Sheila Gross; Vice-President, Lori Woodward; Secretary, Connie Thacker, Treasurer, Angela Staten, Special Events, David McMurry; Public Relations, Amy Graham; Program Chairperson, Andy Bolton; Refreshments, Kim Banks; Bulletin Boards, Wanda Carter; Social projects, Christina Hall; Competitive Events, Dawn Thompson; Chaplain, Dee Dee Silcox; Photographer, Sarah Woods.

Several members attended various contests, with one member, Sheila Gross, being elected state secretary.

During the 1986-87 school year, the chapter also did several projects for their organization and for the community. In April, the organization sponsored an Easter egg hunt for the Gallatin Day Care Center, and for a fund raiser, they introduced a new product — chipsticks!

A two hour Child Care Practicum course has been added to the Home Economics curriculum. The new class allows the 15 students to work in area day care centers and kindergartens. The student leadership organization of the class is HERO — Home Economics Related Occupations. Installation of chapter officers occurred September 5, 1986. President: Missy Bartlett; Vice-President, Terri Andrews; Secretary, Penny Tucker, Treasurer: Amy Draper and Executive Officers: Dawn Anderson, Beth Kirby, Shelia McDougal and Elizabeth McKee. Chapter meetings have included a speaker on roles of women, daycare safety and newborn care.

Students were placed in 5 area day care centers for 12 weeks to gain experience with young children

Office Help Is Vital

The duties of office workers range from delivering messages to shelving books. Without their help, many necessary work details would be left undone. Courtesy and responsibility are key characteristics, coupled with the desire to work. Indeed, it is an honor to be chosen to work.

Maintenance And Cafeteria Keep School Running

The fragrance of fried sausage early in the morning or rolls baking at noon signals students to move toward the cafeteria rapidly. Besides baking cakes for teams, band, or choir, the cafeteria staff treats students to a wide variety of menu items.

The maintenance staff is responsible for keeping the fourteen year old building looking like new. Working tirelessly, they too show Green Wave Pride.

Middle Etta Hill and Connie Stanton are members of the custodial staff.

What A Year', Says P.A.

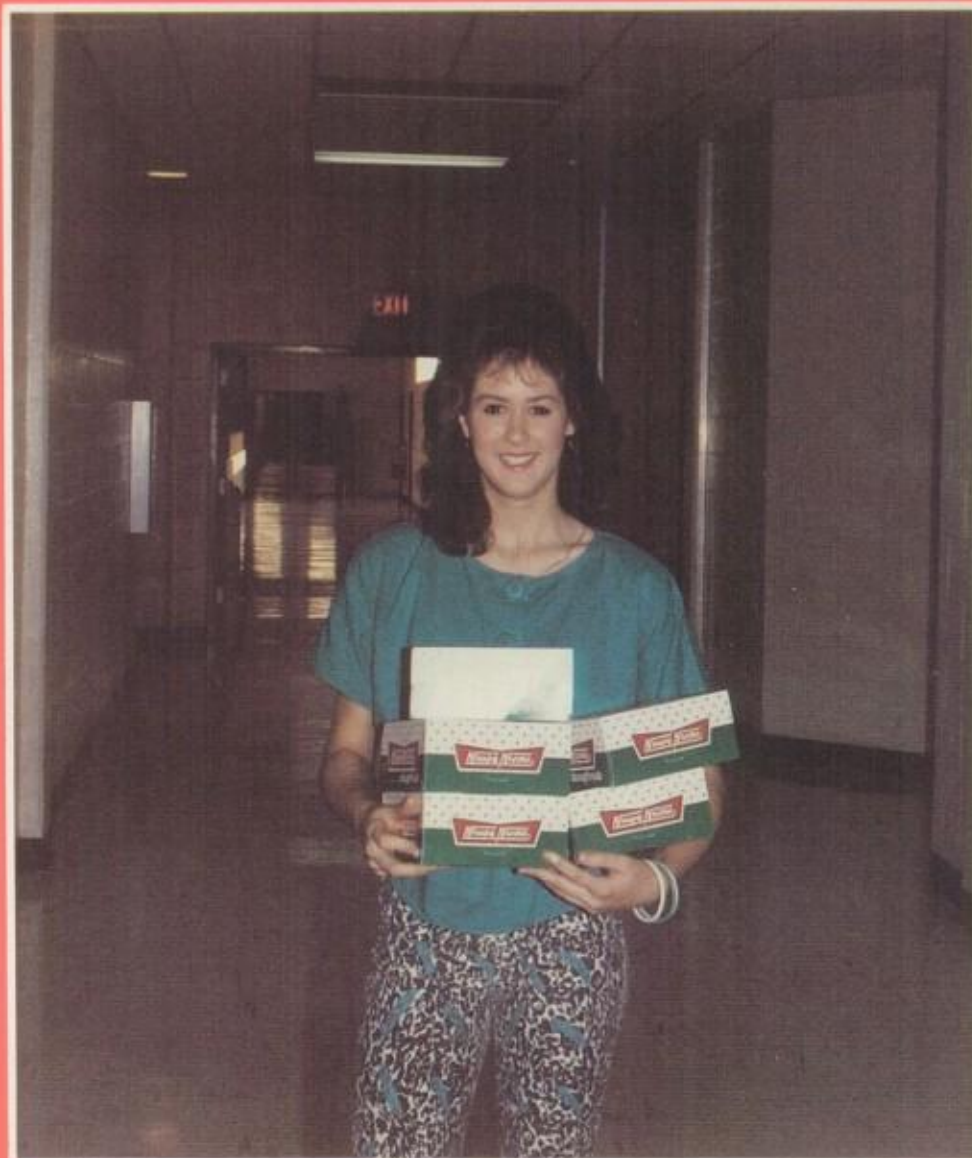

Well, P.A. is still looking for his matching sunglasses and he is not sure his sneakers will ever quit squeaking after that rain at Homecoming. Nonetheless, what a year!

Steaming days at band camp and scalding hot football practices lengthened into cold wet nights and November play-offs. Semester exams before Christmas left everyone waiting for snow days in January.

Then, there have been long nights on research projects and longer nights preparing for tests. There have been moments to "show off" and others to relax in solitude. Anxious day waiting for test scores blend with fun times like ice cream parties.

P.A. has found that catching the wave is no easy task, but says it's sure been fun.

Above: Raegan Ray, Tina Phillips, and Kim Kennedy were this year's winners on Green and Gold day.

Fashion/'87 Hallmark

Brightly-colored fashion has been the hallmark of the '87 year. From pale, china-like faces to brilliant shades of purple hair, variety has set the pace. P.A. soon discovered that everyone needs at least one denim item other than blue jeans. Denim jackets, handbags, and boots have been seen everywhere. Bulky over-sized sweaters and shirts imitating the styling of long underwear have been matched with flouncy western skirts or close fitting ski pants.

The most mind boggling selection has been what shoes to wear. From tasseled white "cowgirl" boots to plain white tennis shoes, to expensive name brand running shoes, a mixture of styles have walked the halls. Flats in silver and gold have at times walked aside spike heels or high tops.

P.A. decided that keeping up with the fashion trends is nearly impossible, but he is still eyeing some rhinestone high tops.

As the end of the year emerges, P.A. shares the classic feeling of being wildly ready to leave, yet hating to go. Confused, he wonders what is special to each student in terms of classic moments.

Was it the huddle before the game or a bear hug from a coach? Was it a handshake that signified the start of a friendship or a course that gave the word "career" meaning? Was it marching in the band wearing a mask for Halloween or cheering in the pouring rain? Was it being dressed out in a green and gold uniforms for the first or last time, or the last strains of the Alma Mater at graduation?

Or was it winning the state championship in girls basketball?

Or was it becoming state champs two years in a row — a feat belonging solely to the '87 Girl's Cross-Country Team ...

Catch The Wave

We're No. One!

The 1987 Gallatin Senior High Cross Country team brought home its second State Championship in a row, and the Lady Wave Basketball squad captured the State Championship for the first time in the history of the school with an undefeated season, 34-0.
